Mariner 4 Sent Into Space; Early Phase Successful

Several Hours Needed to Find if It's on Course

CAPE KERNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Mariner 4 rocketed into space today, and the flight control center reported it apparently executed early maneuvers successfully on the start of an intended 7½-month journey to Mars.

The electronic explorer, which represents the United States' last chance for a close look at Mars for two years, was scheduled to fly across 325 million miles of space before passing within 8,600 miles of Mars next July 14.

Success Not Certain
During a 30-minute encounter, before Mariner 4 soars past Mars into orbit about the sun, a television camera is to take 22 pictures, and instruments are to study atmospheric density, radiation and other scientific secrets.

Although preliminary data indicated early phases of the launching were successful, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said several hours would be required to determine whether the craft was on a precise course, or whether radio signals would have to be sent to fire a steering motor to jockey it onto the correct path.

A spokesman said definite information was expected late this afternoon.

Shroud Separated
A towering, 100-foot Atlas-Agena rocket started Mariner 4 on its way, blasting off from Cape Kennedy exactly on schedule, at 9:22 a.m., with a surge of flaming power from its three booster engines.

A critical hurdle was cleared five minutes, 22 seconds, after launching, when a protective metal shroud separated from the spacecraft.

16 Rescued Men Fly to Norway

NEW YORK (AP) — A tug towed the severed bow of the tanker Stolt Dagali to Graveyard Bay today. Sixteen of her crew returned home to Norway by air. And damage to the Israeli liner Shalom, which knifed into the tanker, was being assessed.

Still a mystery were details of the collision between the two ships early Thanksgiving Day in dense fog off the New Jersey coast. Nineteen crewmen from the tanker died.

Messages Indicated Rebels Preparing for Mass Executions

BY WASHNGT MORTON
The United States and Belgium decided to fly paratroopers to the Congo when intercepted messages strongly indicated that the rebels planned a mass execution of their hostages, diplomatic observers revealed today.

These messages appeared to be far more convincing than the danger was imminent than the threats and bragging of Christophe B. Gbenye, self-styled president of the rebels' "Peoples Republic."

Nicholas Olenka, the rebel general, to his troops. How they were intercepted was not disclosed.

Most Dangerous Leader
Olenka is — or at least was until now — considered the most dangerous of all rebel leaders. While Gbenye and Gaston Soumialot, the defense minister of the Stanleyville rebel regime, are regarded as political opportunists, Olenka, who controlled whatever armed forces the rebels had, is considered a fanatic.

The idea of joint U.S.-Belgian action was conceived during talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Paul-Henri Spaak, the Belgian foreign minister, in Washington Nov. 8 and 9.

At that time Spaak still had strong reservations because he was concerned about the fate of the some 40,000 Belgians living in the Congo. He agreed to act, however, when he became convinced two weeks ago that the capture of Kinshasa, a city some 200 miles south of Stanleyville, had prevented the massacre of about 35 white hostages.

Second Quintuplet Baby Dies in France

PARIS (AP) — A second of the Sambre quintuplets died today, the French Ministry of Health reported. The surviving three are suffering from respiratory difficulties.

Dominique, the fourth born and at 2 pounds 12 ounces the heaviest, stopped making spontaneous efforts to breathe Friday night. Doctors kept him breathing by artificial means until noon today.

Jean-Luc, last of the five born, died late Tuesday after developing a lung hemorrhage. The remaining boy, Thierry, and two girls, Cathrine and Monique, are under constant care in incubators at the modern pediatrics center of the Paris Faculty of Medicine.

His Own Ecumenical Movement

Lutheran Monk Rebuilds Outpost Aiming at Reunity of Christians

BY KARL MANTYLA
OXFORD, Mich. (AP) — America's only Lutheran monk has rebuilt his unique outpost of the ecumenical movement.

The Rev. Arthur Kreinheder, founder and sole member of an unusual monastic order, said construction crews completed the building of St. Augustine's House Friday. It replaces a fire-torn house destroyed by a riot in the summer of 1963.

Provides Retreats
Roman Catholics, Lutherans and other Christians pitched in "as a labor of love" to make the rebuilding possible, Rev. Kreinheder, 59, said.

The $35,000 building requires only interior decoration and furnishings to be complete for use in retreats by Lutherans and the far northern areas and scattered slippery conditions prevail in the southern sector.

Sun sets at 4:17 p.m., rises Sunday at 7:07 a.m. New moon Dec. 2.

Belgian and Congolese Embassies Also Targets Of 500 to 800 Rioters

MOSCOW (AP) — A mob of 500 to 800 Asian and African university students attacked the U.S., Belgian and Congolese embassies today in rock-throwing demonstrations against Western action in the Congo.

Screaming anti-West slogans, they smashed windows at the three buildings and raided the ambassador's office in the Congolese Embassy.

The students tried to attack the British Embassy also, but were unable to get to the building, located behind a gate.

The students from Patrice Lumumba University also splattered ink on the walls of the U. S. Embassy and set a car afire in front of the building. Police roughed up some of the demonstrators at the U. S. Embassy and tossed one student from a second-floor balcony at the Congolese quarters. No serious injuries were reported, however.

The students first attacked the American building and then turned to the Belgian and Congolese embassies, demonstrating about 20 to 30 minutes at each place.

U. S. Charge d'Affairs Walter Stoessel Jr. protested the action in strong terms to the Soviet Foreign ministry and demanded compensation for damage done and better Soviet police protection.

At the U. S. Embassy the students ignored appeals for calm and it took 30 mounted policemen to disperse the crowd.

Stoessel is top man at the embassy because Ambassador Foy D. Kohler is in Washington.

Frustrated in their efforts to stone the British Embassy, the students tried to rough up an American correspondent, but police intervened.

Additional Bodies In Congo Killings

97 Known White Victims Up to Present in Massacre

BY KENNETH L. WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The discovery of new victims of slaughter by Congolese rebels has raised the total of known white victims to 97. Unofficial reports of another rebel massacre could mean nearly 150 foreigners were killed.

With the U.S.-Belgian rescue mission, which dramatically saved more than 1,600 white hostages in Stanleyville and Postais, scheduled to close today, the fate of perhaps 300 whites still behind rebel lines depends on the mercenary-led Congolese forces.

There had been reports the huge American C130 transport planes might ferry Belgian paratroopers for a drop at Bunia, on the eastern Congo border, or Watsa, to the northeast.

But Belgian Premier Theo Lefevre said in Brussels that the rescue mission would be completed today.

The International Red Cross announced Friday night that 45 whites, including four Spaniards, were killed in a final rampage in Stanleyville's African quarters before government troops seized the section, on the left bank of the Congo River.

The bodies were mutilated beyond recognition, with throats cut and cannibalism suspected in several cases, a Red Cross spokesman said.

"Bought Our Lives"
"It was a charnel house — house of dead — people were slain on top of other bodies," one refugee said. The remains were buried Friday with full military honors. The massacre was discovered Friday when government soldiers crossed to the left bank in an effort to flush out rebels still holding much of that part of the city.

One of five survivors was Camille Berry of Belgium, who said: "We bought our lives with beer and money. The killing began in front of the main market Wednesday. The sisters had nothing to give them."

African leaders and the Communist world continued to protest the U.S.-Belgian mission as "armed intervention."

At United Nations Headquarters in New York, the African group drafted a formal request for a Security Council meeting on the Congo situation. The Congo dissented.

Rescue Mission
The request would not be presented, however, until the governments in Africa gave the go-ahead.

A three-hour private meeting of the group Friday night brought a statement of "deep concern at the present situation in the Congo resulting from American and Belgian military intervention."

Pierre M'bale, charge d'affaires of the Congolese delegation, replied that Belgium and the United States carried out a mission to rescue their nationals and it "was neither an act of aggression nor an act of unilateral intervention."

M'bale said his government

Buddhists Demand Ouster of Huong

Threatens Removal if Legal Efforts Are Not Successful

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Only 200 persons may follow the Thich Tam Chau, one of South Viet Nam's most influential Buddhist leaders, warned today that unless the new civilian government is removed legally, "then we will take steps to remove it ourselves."

Tam Chau, a priest who was a key figure in the overthrow of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime last year, delivered his ultimatum at a news conference.

Prime Minister Tran Van Huong "no longer has confidence of the people," Tam Chau charged. "In order to fight the biggest threat to Viet Nam — the Communists — we must have a united and popular government."

Danger At Public Funeral

Calling upon the high national council to use its authority to oust Huong, Chau added: "If the council does not do this then we will do so ourselves by a program of noncooperation and nonviolence against the government."

Buddhist students were completing plans to hold a potentially explosive public funeral Sunday for a 15-year-old boy shot Wednesday during anti-government demonstrations.

Military governor Brig. Gen. Pham Van Dong, in an attempt to head off violence, issued special restrictions for the funeral.

12 Fliers Die As Plane Hits Mountain

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Twelve Navy fliers died Friday when an antisubmarine patrol plane crashed into a mountain near the tip of Cape Newenham, 250 miles northwest of Kodiak.

A four-man rescue party found the wreckage of the burned plane and bodies of the crew strewn over about 500 feet of mountainside. The group was led by Maj. Curtiss Gruye, commander of the Cape Newenham Distant Aircraft Control and Warning Station.

Strikes Mountain
The crash was four miles west of the military site. The plane hit about 200 feet below the crest of the mountain, 800 feet above the sea.

The twin-engined P2V Neptune from Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Wash., was stationed at Kodiak on rotating assignment. It had taken off from Kodiak Naval Air Station on a routine coastal ice patrol.

Gruye said at the time of the crash visibility at the Air Force radar site was about one-half mile, and at the crash site it was about 80 feet. He said radar contact was difficult because the plane was "flying on the deck."

The search group had to descend a 1,000 foot cliff to reach the wreckage, and ropes will be needed to remove the bodies, Gruye said.

The Navy withheld identification of the victims.

Briefing for House Freshmen Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats who will be freshmen in the House of Representatives in the new session starting Jan. 4 have been invited to attend a briefing and orientation with the House leadership here on Dec. 9 and to meet President Johnson.

The new Democratic freshman crop totals 69.

Vatican sources said the line to Bombay will be manned around the clock, but they do not anticipate any emergency requiring its use.

During the pontiff's absence Dec. 2 through Dec. 5, the Vatican Congregation and other administrative bodies will carry on routine business.

Packers Take Texas Tech Back as 'Future' Selection

Packers in Good Health For Dallas Tilt

Bays Announce Signing of Tackle From Drake

DALLAS (AP) — Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said he wanted only one thing in today's National Football League draft of college players — "the best athletes available."

As the Packers arrived Friday, Lombardi said that everyone was in good health.

Pulled Muscles

Such is not the case with the Cowboys. Quarterback Don Meredith has pulled abdominal muscles and will be replaced by former Packer John Roach.

The Packers said Friday night they had signed Dick Atterhizing, a 6-foot-4, 255-pound tackle from Drake.

In today's draft, the Packers had the most choices, 25, as they picked 10th on each of the 20 rounds.

Green Bay was entitled to a pair of picks on the first round, their own and Philadelphia's initial turn.

Sunday's game, starting at 3 p.m. Wisconsin time, will be broadcast and televised.

Indians Record Second FRVC Win, 68-53

OSHKOSH — The Oshkosh High School Indians recorded its second Fox River Valley Conference victory in as many starts Friday with a 68-53 verdict over Sheboygan North. It was North's first FRVC contest.

The Indians took command 12-11, midway through the first period and never trailed thereafter.

Bruce Erickson led the Indians with 18 points. Bruce Weber was next in line with 12 and Mike Malone and Greg Seibold added 10 apiece.

North closed a 15-point gap (35-20) to 55-51 midway through the fourth period but the Indians outscored the visitors, 13-2, in the final four minutes of play.

Jones, Nelson Top Drivers in 'Vukovich' Field

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The national stock car driving championship will be on the line here Sunday in the Billy Vukovich Memorial 200-mile race.

Parnelli Jones, currently leading in point standings, and runner-up Norm Nelson head the drivers who will vie for $15,000 prize money.

Nelson, of Racine, Wis., must finish first or second for any chance of overtaking Jones in the point standings. But an eight-place finish would give the Torrance, Calif., driver the championship no matter where Nelson finishes.

They will get stiff competition from Indianapolis 500 champ A. J. Foyt and 1963 stock car champion Don White.

Qualifying heats are today with the 590 32 cars making Sunday's starting grind.

Cowboys to Set Home Attendance Mark

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League will set a home attendance record when they play Green Bay Sunday. They need only 312 in their two final home games to surpass their previous season record of 188,727.

If the Cowboys maintain their five-game average of 37,663 they will reach 250,000.

Vike Cagers Open Campaign Tuesday Against Pointers

Only One Senior Will be in Starting Lineup for Lawrence

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Tuesday night the Lawrence University basketball team begins its bid for the school's first winning season in at least a decade.

The Vikes will seek to avenge last season's 75-62 loss to Stevens Point and to end a carry-over losing streak of eight games when they meet the Pointers at 7:30 p.m. in the Alexander Gym.

The 1963-4 Vikes, under the inaugural season coaching of Clyde Rusk, rolled to eight wins in their first 14 games before skidding into an 8-game season-ending slump. Even so, the victory total was distinctive, in that it was the school's biggest in nine years.

This season, Rusk continues the rebuilding process around four of last season's top seven players. Returning regulars Earl Hoover and Tom Steinmetz will start Tuesday night, as will Rick Krooss, who started some games last season.

The 6-4 Hoover was the team's best rebounder and third highest scorer in 1963-4. The 6-2 Steinmetz, who in his sophomore year was second in both scoring and rebounding, has been moved to guard this season to allow for the insertion of more height into the front line.

Part of the added height will be represented by Mike O'Fallon, a 6-4 sophomore. The fifth starter Tuesday is expected to be Dick Schultz, a 5-11 sophomore who will be the only senior in the starting array.

Indications are that the Vikes will have a stronger bench this season. Ready for action will be 6-2 Gordon Bond, a frequent starter in 1963-4; Jim Swanson, a 6-8 sophomore, who has looked promising in workouts and in the varsity frosh game; Bill Prange, who was hampered by an injury last season; Phil Strong, a 6-2 soph; Bruce Elliott, a 5-10 soph; and Bill Benowicz, a 6-3 sophomore who is recovering from a football injury.

The Vikes will probably play break less frequently and play more pattern ball this season because they lack some of last campaign's speed. Such "go-go" boys as Joel Ungrodt and Steve Nault have been graduated.

Big Challenge

Stevens Point will represent a king-sized opening challenge for Lawrence, since the veteran-laden Pointers swamped Winona State, of Minnesota, 88-57, in last Tuesday's opener. The Pointers have most of the scorers back who were responsible for Lawrence's defeat last season. For example, Jerry Lawetzke, who scored 13 points against the Vikes last year, opened with 16 against Winona. Mike Fortune, who scored 19 against Lawrence, poured in 13 against Winona. Kaukauna's Bill Borchardt, who tallied 13 against Lawrence last year, fired in an identical total against Winona in the current season opener.

Other returning Stevens Point veterans include Wes Zuege, Grant White, Bryan Wirih and Howie Ochs.

Viking Sports Banquet Set Wednesday

The Lawrence University fall sports awards dinner will be held Wednesday night starting at 6:15 p.m., in Colman Hall.

Viking football and cross country teams (both varsity and freshmen) will be honored. Football Coach Bernie Heston and harrier coach Gene Davis will comment on their 1964 seasons and present awards.

Bears Take Dick Butkus Of Illinois

NEW YORK (AP) — Fullback Tucker Frederickson of Auburn was named by the New York Giants as the No. 1 choice in the National Football League draft today.

The San Francisco 49ers went next and took Ken Willard of North Carolina, another fullback.

The Chicago Bears, with three of the next four picks, started off with Dick Butkus, Illinois' ferocious linebacker. Chicago obtained that spot in a trade with Pittsburgh, had its own fourth choice in the first round, and acquired the sixth in a deal with Washington.

Clubs picked in inverse order of the combined league standings after games of last Sunday.

Gale Sayers, Kansas halfback, became the first player named in both the NFL and American Football League drafts, which are being conducted simultaneously at the separate league offices here. Sayers was chosen by the Bears in the NFL first round and also was the first-round pick in the AFL by Kansas City.

Dallas of the NFL took California quarterback Craig Morton as its first selection.

The Green Bay Packers, using most of their allotted hour before making a choice, picked Don Anderson, a back from Texas Tech, as a future. Anderson has not yet completed his college eligibility although his original class will be graduated this year, thus making him eligible for the pro draft.

The Packers used a draft choice acquired from Philadelphia in making this selection. They also get a second pick in the first round.

Chosen by Houston Oilers

Elkins First AFL Draft Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Elkins, Baylor's pass-catching star, was the first pick in the American Football League draft today, going to the Houston Oilers.

The New York Jets, acquiring the second pick in the first round in a trade with Houston, chose Alabama quarterback Joe Namath and gave the Texas-based club rights to Tulsa's celebrated passer, Jerry Rhyme.

The second pick originally belonged to the Denver Broncos, who traded it to Houston. The Oilers, in turn, gave it to the Jets.

Rhyme was chosen by New York in last year's draft as a future — a player who still has varsity eligibility although his original college class has graduated.

Iowa's Gary Snook Breaks Five Big Ten Season Marks

Noonan Snaps Receiving Mark Formerly Shared by UW's Richter

CHICAGO (AP) — Although Iowa shared the Big Ten football cellar with Indiana, the Hawkeyes this season produced the most prolific passing combination in conference history.

Final league statistics today credited Iowa's sharpshooting quarterback, Gary Snook, with five season records and his prime target, flanker Karl Noonan, with a new mark in pass receptions, 40.

As new Big Ten passing champion, Snook — 6-foot-1, 180-pound junior from Iowa City — hurled three new aerial records into the book with a six-game total of 234 passes attempted, 110 completions and 1,544 passing yards.

As new total offense titlist, Snook set two more records — most plays, 276, all except 42 in passing, and total yards, 1,560.

Noonan's 40 catches broke the record of 36 shared by Rex Smith of Illinois (1952) and Wisconsin's Pat Richter (1961), but Noonan's total gain of 652 yards fell four short of Badger Richter's record total of 656.

A fast finish by Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski handed the rushing title to the Big gun of the dethroned Illini by a substantial margin over halfback Dick Gordon of Michigan State.

In seven games, Grabowski smashed 723 yards on 139 carries for a 5.2 average.

7.0 Average

Gordon, fading in a head-to-head season finale duel with Grabowski, had a 371 yard total, carrying 81 times in six league games. However, Gordon's 7.0 average was tops in the Big Ten.

Last year's rushing champ, fullback Tom Nowatzke of Indiana, wound up ninth this fall with a six-game total of 336 and a 3.3 average compared with 5.9 when his 486 total took the 1963 title. Grabowski was last year's runnerup with 387.

Quarterback Bob Timberlake of Michigan's champion Wolverines copped the scoring crown with 67 points, well ahead of runnerup Randy Minniear, Purdue fullback, who had 54. Timberlake's bag on 7 TD's, 16 conversions and 3 field goals was the biggest since 1943.

Best Big Ten punter for the second straight season was Michigan State's Lou Bobich, averaging 42.0 yards on 21 kicks. Last year, soccer-style kicker Bobich had a 41.1 average on 27 boots.

Other champion specialists: Kickoff returns — Ron Smith, Wisconsin halfback, 13 for 25.3-yard average.

Punt returns — Don Japanga, Michigan State halfback, 13 for 3.4 average. (Best average, 29.8 yards on 6, by Tom Barrington, Ohio State halfback).

Interceptions — George Donnelly, Illinois safety, 6 for 40 yards. (Most yards, 111 by Kraig Lotquist, Minnesota halfback, on 4 steals).

Specialists

This was a great season for pass catching specialists. Besides Noonan (40), two other receivers topped last season's best Big Ten snagger, Wisconsin's Fred Reichardt, who won with 26 for 383 yards.

End Bill Malinchak of Indiana, like Noonan a junior, speared 35 passes for 437 yards, while Jimmy Jones, Wisconsin flanker, grabbed 29 for 407. Although missing Purdue's last two games because of injury, Boilermaker end Bob Hadrick wound up fourth with 25 catches for 298 yards and Michigan end John Henderson was fifth with a 24-for-364 effort.

Heavy Snow In Northern Hunting Areas

Top Conditions Available Over Upper Part of State

MADISON (AP) — Swirling snow has provided top conditions in the northern part of the state for the final weekend of the nine-day Wisconsin deer shooting season.

The snow arrived Friday, spreading over almost all of the north half of the state. Seven inches fell in Douglas County and there was a four-inch accumulation in Iron County and the deer remain deep in the woods, apparently sleeping out the storm, and the wise hunter remained in his cabin.

When the snow wasn't falling, a freezing drizzle sheathed with ice the rifles of hunters who did venture outside. Those who did go out saw little or no game.

The snow was the soft and fluffy kind, which produces ideal tracking conditions and makes the deer easier to see and sight.

The Conservation Department forecast that an estimated 350,000 hunters would try for deer during the season that opened last Saturday morning and will close at sundown Sunday. The department forecast a bag of 85,000 deer from a herd of 500,000.

Red Schoendienst To be Honored by Baseball Writers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Albert "Red" Schoendienst, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and a former Milwaukee Brave, will be the special guest and will receive a distinguished alumnus award at the Jan. 24 dinner of the Milwaukee chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The Braves got Schoendienst from the then New York Giants in June of 1957 and went on to win the National League pennant and the World Series. He also helped the Braves win the pennant in 1958.

Other guests will include Charlie Grimm, manager of the Braves when they moved to Milwaukee from Boston. Players past and present who will attend are Johnny Logan, Ed Matthews, Joe Torre, Warren Spahn, Jack Dittmer, Billy Bruton, Dennis Menke, Andy Pafko, Bob Uecker and Johnny Braun, a fine young pitching prospect from Madison.

Green Bay East Defeats South

SHEBOYGAN — Green Bay East downed Sheboygan South, 76-66, in a Fox River Valley Conference encounter Friday night.

After a 7-7 tie midway through the first quarter East took the lead and never trailed. South, however, was as close as three points early in the fourth period.

Six foot, five inch Pat Harrington tallied 31 points for East. Ted Wittig collected 23. For South, Bill Bensman canned 22 markers.

Melges is a veteran small boat sailer. Bentsen is assistant dean of Beloit College.

Badger 'Six' Opens Season With 9-3 Win

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin hockey team opened its season with a victory Friday night, Jim Petruzzates scoring two goals and getting credit for two assists as the Badgers defeated Macalester 9-3.

Wisconsin's attack kept the pressure on Macalester goalie Kurt Hass, who had 34 saves. Badger goalie Gary Johnson had 15 saves.

Bobo Olson, 36-Year-Old veteran and a former middleweight champion, is knocked out by Jose Torres in first round at New York's Madison Square Garden last night. The knockout, at 2:51 of the first round, may have ended the 2½-year comeback of Olson, and may have vaulted Torres, a Puerto Rican, into a shot at the light-heavyweight title. (AP Wirephoto)

Badgers Meet Houston in Cage Opener

Erickson Set On Starting Lineup For Tuesday's Tilt

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin basketball Coach John Erickson says he and his Badgers are looking forward to their season opener against Houston Tuesday night in Madison.

"We'll be ready," Erickson said Friday, "and we're eager to get going. I'm pretty well set on my starters. I've got a good line on the new talent I'll be working into the lineup, and we've got the home floor advantage."

It also will be the first game of the campaign for Houston, so Erickson has no scouting report but he knows the visitors will be experienced. Four of the five starters are back from last season's team.

Erickson also said he knows the high school ability of some of the Houston players as well as their coach, Guy Lewis.

"I was interested in some of his players, saw them play and talked to some of them," Erickson said.

The Badger coach said Houston "is a running, pressing type team, but I don't believe they do it as much as we have in the past few years." But Erickson has indicated the current Badgers will play at a slower pace.

The Badger lineup will have 6-foot-4 Ken Barnes and 6-foot-8 Keith Stelter at forwards, 6-foot-6 Mark Zubor at center, and 6-foot-3 Ken Gustafson and 5-foot-10 Jim Bohan at guards.

Embarks on Honeymoon

Clay Leaves Hospital Despite Feeling Weak

BOSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay, shedding good will but no predictions about his next fight with Sonny Liston for the heavyweight championship, checked out of Boston City Hospital Friday, at 207 pounds feeling a "little weak" after his hernia operation.

The operation came on a Friday night, just three days before his scheduled bout with Liston on Nov. 16.

Clay said he was going home to Chicago where his wife, Sonji, is from, "to have a honeymoon" and to get ready for his bout with Liston.

Doctors have said he may be ready for fighting in another six months, but Clay wouldn't put it that exactly.

He said he thinks it will be six months before he can do heavy training, but that "it will be as soon as the doctors say — the doctors will be my physical trainers for this one."

He said he was grateful to the doctors, nurses and other hospital staff members who cared for him, and that "they'll all get tickets for that next fight."

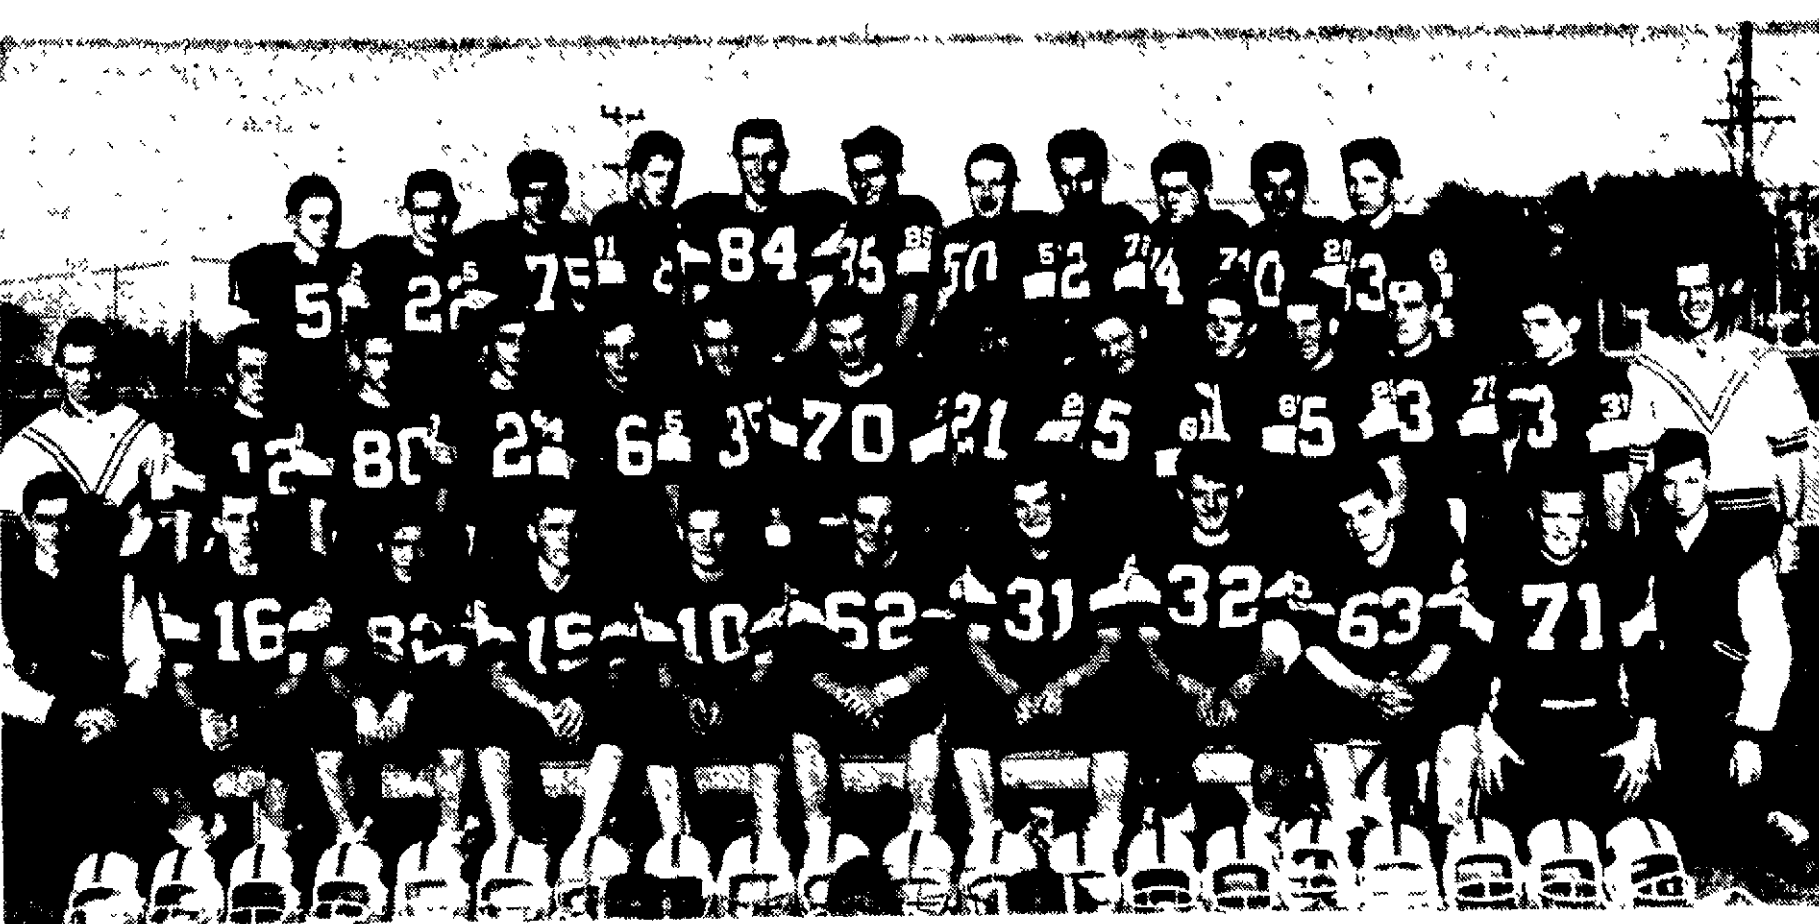

He was flanked by his wife and old-time movie comedian Stepin Fetchit for his parting news conference. Also present was 14-year-old Mike Marley, a Boston schoolboy, who Clay said, "you gotta meet, he's the president of my fan club."

Writing to Clay Clay said the boy had been writing to him for three years, "and man, I was glad to meet him."

The Marley lad said he admired Clay for his confidence, but said he didn't want to become a boxer himself.

Clay said he expects to have three more fights. "They'll be the biggest ones, and I want to retire undefeated. If I lose I'll have to leave the country."

And he said he hopes to retire "with a million dollars."

Freedom High School's football team captured its first undisputed Little Nine Conference championship this season. Members of the Irish squad in the front row, from left, are manager Dennis Schaez, Gerald Weyers, Jim Ihde, Pat Carney, Jim Van Wychen, Dennis Hooyman, Bill Rickert, Dwayne Conrad, Leroy Brockman, Alan Presteen and manager Terry Stine. Second row: Assistant Coach Clarence Colombe, Bruce Planert, Tony Wisneski, John Van

St. John Maintains Lead in World Test

Defending Champion Favored to Retain Invitational Bowling Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim St. John, knocking down pins with monotonous regularity in the first 40 games of a grueling 64-game schedule in the World's Invitational Bowling Tournament, remained a heavy favorite today to retain his championship.

After Friday's firing in the $52,000 tournament, the 34-year-old titleholder from Santa Clara, Calif., maintained his lead of more than 15 Petersen Points as the 16 finalists resumed shooting.

There are 24 games and eight matches in the final two days of the nine-day tournament and most of the finalists have conceded the $7,500 first prize and retention of the world's title to St. John.

St. John had some troubles Friday despite his 230 plus average. He lost eight of 16 games, but still managed to stay more than 15 points ahead of the field with a hefty 237 average for the 40 games in the finals.

Hold on Second Dave Soutar, the 24-year-old Detroit shooter who rolled 300 and 299 games on Thursday, was building a solid hold on second place with 205.01 points as compared to St. John's 220.14. Bob Chase of Kansas City, Kan., was third with 200.31 points.

They'll Do It Every Time

If he does he said he expects "to sit behind a desk and live off the interest."

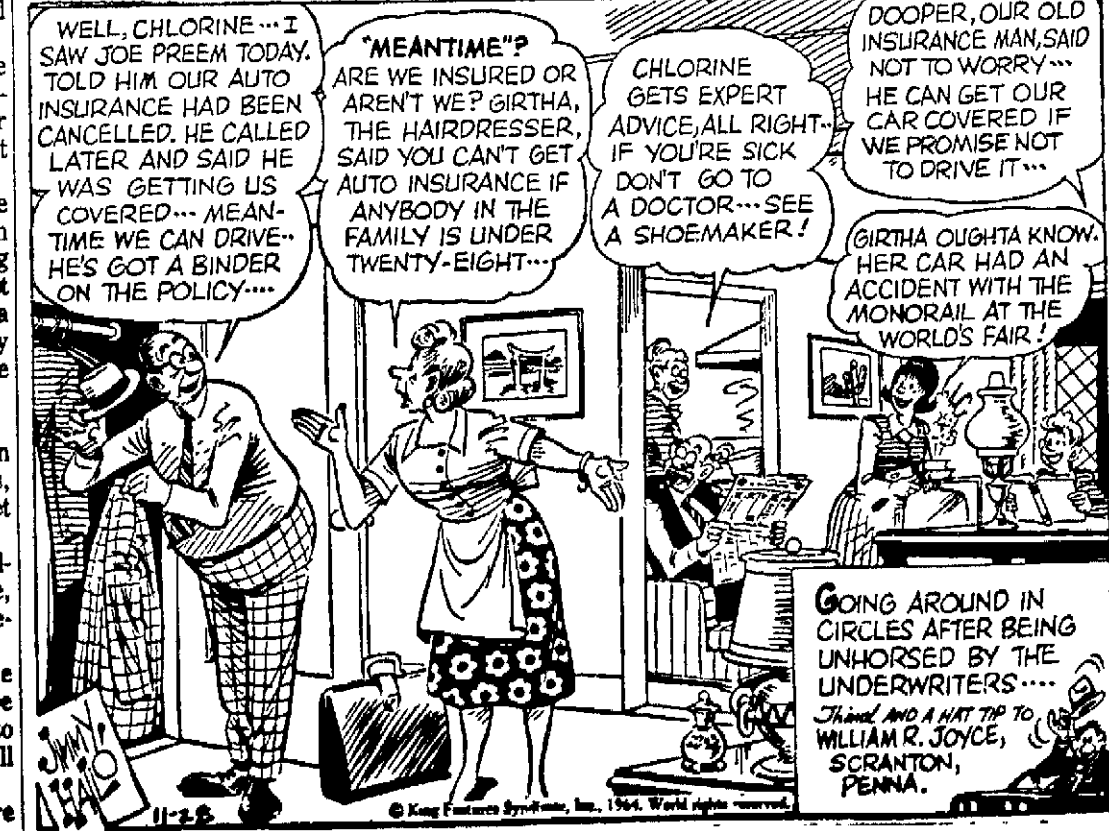

When a reporter pointed out he's 22 now and still will be in his 20s at retirement, and that he might find idleness boring, he said he might "take another look at education."

"There's a lot of things I don't know," he said. "You know, when you've got a million dollars, you don't have to go to school, I could hire my own private teachers."

Clay said he received telephone calls from all over the country and Europe during his hospital stay, as well as 3,000 pieces of mail.

He said he has answered some of the mail, and plans to hire secretaries to help him reply to the remainder.

Stockbridge Nips Freedom

Indians Pull Away in Final Period; Cop, 71-63

FREEDOM — The Stockbridge High School Indians upended Freedom, 71-63, in a non-conference clash here Friday night. The victory was Stockbridge's second straight in two outings; Freedom now sports a 2-1 season record.

The game was nip and tuck until the last three minutes of the fourth quarter. Freedom led 13-8 after the first period. Stockbridge came back to take a 28-27 halftime advantage. After the third period of action the count was knotted at 47-47. In the fourth quarter, Freedom trailed by just two points, 61-59, with three minutes to play. At this point the scrappy Indians began to take advantage of bonus free throws and pulled away to their eight point margin of triumph.

The game's high scorer was Stockbridge's Bob Mayer, who collected 25 points. Teammate Neil Wood chipped in with 14, and Comerford added 13.

Glen Bowers, second last year in Little Nine Conference scoring, threw in 21 points for Freedom. Pat and Tom Carney had 13 and 11 points, respectively.

Record Drops on Holiday

Hand Says Cardinals, Browns Will Triumph

BY JACK HAND

Cleveland can wrap up the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League Sunday but don't count on it. Both the Browns and runnerup St. Louis Cardinals figure to win their games and the race will continue at least until their Dec. 6 meeting at St. Louis.

Baltimore, with the Western crown clinched, has nothing to worry about except a letdown as they run through their three remaining games before the Dec. 27 championship tilt with either the Browns or Cards.

Buffalo and San Diego, the two division leaders in the American Football League, have Sunday off because they played Thanksgiving Day in San Diego. They appear headed toward a title game Dec. 26 at Buffalo unless the Boston Pats catch the Bills.

When both Detroit and San Diego went down in the holiday games, the record dropped to 72-42-7 for the season (45-28-5 in the NFL, 27-14-2 in the AFL). Only nine games Sunday so let's take another shot: (All games played Sunday afternoon, Detroit, Chicago in NFL, Buffalo, San Diego in AFL idle).

Cleveland 31, Philadelphia 21: Browns still driving hard toward first conference championship since 1957. Jim Brown always has big day against Eagles but Frank Ryan will find Eagles pass defense tougher than 28-20 Sept. 27 victory. Browns have won five of six and Eagles have dropped three of their last four.

Torres KO's Olson, Earns Title Shot

Third-Ranked Challenger Falls in First

NEW YORK (AP) — "I guess I just got caught cold," mumbled balding veteran Bobo Olson. "Maybe I underestimated the kid."

It seemed like a safe guess. Old Bobo, a 36-year-old veteran and a former middleweight champion, had just been knocked out in the first round by exuberant Jose Torres — a knockout that could have ended the 2½ year comeback of Olson and may have vaulted Torres into a shot at Willie Pastrano's light-heavyweight title.

"We'll try to make a title fight between Pastrano and Torres for the Garden March 1," Madison Square Garden matchmaker Teddy Brenner said after the quick end of the Friday night bout.

"That's provided, of course," Brenner said, "that Pastrano gets by Downes." Pastrano has a title defense scheduled against London's Terry Downes in England Monday. He had promised the winner of the Olson-Torres fight the next try at the title.

Wants Pastrano "Sure I want Pastrano," said Torres, who had just made his first start as a light-heavy. He had gone in at 170½. "One-70 or 160 doesn't make much difference. You just eat and drink a little more or a little less."

Torres, a Puerto Rican, wasted little time in knocking Bobo off the No 3 rung in the light-heavy ranks, a rating it had taken him 2½ years of come-back to achieve.

"I had it planned," the lithe Torres explained. "He was in a crouch and I hooked him to the ribs. I hurt him. I know I did. I heard him go 'ohhh.' Then I went in with a left-right-left."

Olson dropped. He rolled over on his back, struggled to his hands and knees and was on his knees, in an almost prayerful position when the count reached 10 at 2:51 of the first round.

"The shot in the ribs hurt," Olson confirmed. "I dropped my left, and I saw it coming. The next thing I remember is 'five,' and 'six.' I tried to make my legs work but the roof was spinning."

Torres, a one-time stablemate of Floyd Patterson who uses the peek-a-boo style the former heavyweight champion made famous, currently is ranked fourth among the middleweight contenders. He has a 34-1 record with 25 knockouts.

Olson had won nine of 10 comeback bouts going into the Torres fight and now has an 89-15-2 mark for some 20 years in the ring. It was only the seventh time he had been knocked out.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: Women who are writers should be called authors. The only justification for using authoress is in finding it absolutely essential to make the gender clear where doubt would otherwise exist.

Often Mispronounced: Infamous. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Often Misspelled: Contagious (catching). Contiguous (adjacent or touching).

Synonyms: Plot (noun), scheme, plan, stratagem, combination, conspiracy, machination.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's Word: archetype: original idea, model, or type. (Pronounce ahr-kee-type, accent first syllable). "His book is an archetype of a new kind of thinking."

Report Issued on Consumer Habits

Average Family Puts Money Into Housing and Insurance

BY NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — "Money in the bank" is no longer so important to the average family, the Labor Department says, even though the typical urban family is saving twice as much now as in 1950.

Instead of putting cash in the bank, most families are saving in different ways — sinking their money into life insurance and housing.

This is a key finding of the department's first detailed study of consumer habits in 15 years.

The study also shows that most Americans are giving more money away, in the form of gifts and charitable contributions.

More Home Owners
"The average family is less impelled to accumulate cash savings and other liquid assets to tide them over emergencies," said a report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"Moreover, as home ownership has increased, the family's equity in a home and its equipment has constituted a growing share of its savings," the report added.

Another major form of savings today is in insurance, including Social Security. Group insurance plans sponsored under labor agreements provide "an almost automatic form of workers' savings," the report said.

The study compared consumer spending habits from 1950 to 1961. It was made to modernize the government's consumer price index which is the chief means of determining typical living costs. Many labor agreements are based on the month-to-month changes in the figures.

Higher Housing Costs
The most significant change in spending habits found in the survey was in housing. The average urban family spent nearly $1,600 for housing in 1960-61. That was about $550 more per year than in 1950.

Social Security and other pension plans accounted for 53 per cent of the average family's annual insurance spending of $324 in 1960-61, the survey showed. The corresponding figure in 1950 was 31 per cent, it said.

Overall, average consumer spending jumped 42 per cent from 1950 to 1960-61 to a total of $5,390 a year.

After allowing for price increases in the same period, there was a net gain of about 14 per cent in added goods and services, the report said.

Larger Gifts
Although federal, state and local taxes had soared 140 per cent since 1950, the average family's after-tax income still rose 51 per cent from $3,910 to $5,906, it said.

In 1950, families used 97 per cent of their income for current living expenses but by 1961, the figure had dropped to 91 per cent.

"Gifts to friends and relatives and contributions to religious, welfare, educational and similar institutions averaged $303 per family in 1960-61, almost double the 1950 amount," the study said.

Another important change since 1950 was that the average family had to spend considerably less for food. The figure dropped from nearly 30 per cent in 1950 to 24 per cent in 1960-61, thus freeing that much money for other spending or savings investments.

Humphrey May Advance Post In Importance

Vice Presidential Office May be Used To Fullest Extent

BY HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the capital's favorite guessing games is whether Hubert H. Humphrey's incandescent spirit will be obscured by Lyndon B. Johnson's long shadow.

Johnson himself knows the hazards. Like Humphrey he was one of the most celebrated personalities on Capitol Hill, yet all but vanished as John F. Kennedy's vice president. "Whatever happened to Lyndon Johnson?" was the joke going the rounds then.

From the beginning, vice presidents had a lost feeling. The first, John Adams, felt he held "the most insignificant office that ever the invention of man contrived or his imagination conceived."

Spare Time
John Nance Garner, summing up his job in 1934, likened the vice presidency to a spare tire: as long as everything rolls smoothly, little attention is paid to it.

But even then a trend had begun to give the vice president more responsibilities and duties. Herbert Hoover once said he was the first chief executive to enlarge the field of the vice president by having Charles Curtis attend Cabinet sessions "so he would know what was going on in the executive arm of the government, and would be better prepared to take over the presidency if needed."

Franklin D. Roosevelt delegated important administrative duties to Henry Wallace in World War II. Harry S. Truman made Allen W. Barkley a member of the National Security Council, where he participated in policy making.

Dwight D. Eisenhower had Richard M. Nixon represent him on various public occasions both at home and abroad, as well as having him join discussions of the Cabinet and National Security Council.

Kennedy enlarged the job a bit more, assigning Johnson to the chairmanship of the National Aeronautics and Space Council.

Now it is Hubert Horatio Humphrey's turn, and Johnson

Franklin Third Graders Cook Up Mexican Menu

Miss Jane Becher's Intermediate III class at Franklin School completed its social studies unit on Mexico with a Mexican dinner prepared by class members.

Kathy Christianson, who had given a report on Mexican foods, was dinner chairman. On the planning committee were Dan Magnuson, Kathy Benner and Paula Hoepfner, assisted by Debbie Berner, Barbara Tank and Barbara Stanelle.

In charge of table arrangements were David Frost, Gary Houfek, Gary Barth, Mark Brinkman and Rodney Viegut. Decorations were prepared by Barbara Gloudemans, Laurie Lehman, John Sinclair, Rick DeCock and Rusty Beck. Bernard Phillips brought Mexican dinner music.

On the menu were papaya juice, Tamala hot dish, corn chips and corn bread, Mexican pudding with bananas and "Mexican chocolate milk."

Correct Misunderstandings

Explain Operation of Social Security System

Recent events have brought about a great deal of discussion about the financial status of social security and how benefits are paid.

These discussions have contained some inaccuracies that have caused many people to be fearful of their future and many others to have incorrect knowledge of the social security program.

Frank M. Donnicks, District Manager of the Appleton social security office, has prepared an explanation of social security funds.

Social security is a social insurance financed by taxing the earnings of nine out of 10 working people during their lifetime. The tax rate for employees is 3 1/2 per cent of all earnings up to $4,800 per year. The employer pays an equal amount for each employee.

Self-Employed
Self-employed people pay 5.4 per cent of their net profit up to $4,800 per year. These taxes are placed in two trust funds, the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance trust fund and the Disability Insurance trust fund. One-quarter of 1 per cent of each employee and employers contribution goes into the disability insurance trust fund while three-eighths of 1 per cent of each self-employed person's contribution is put in the disability insurance trust fund.

The law provides that these funds can be used only to pay social security benefits and the costs of administering the program. Any funds not used are invested in interest bearing securities of the U.S. Government. Here again the law provides how the funds are to be invested. It would be illegal for the trustees of the trust funds to invest these reserves in the competitive market.

The trust funds are administered by three trustees. They are the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Secretary of Labor. Each year the trustees must report to trust funds. As of June 30, the reserve in the two trust funds totalled $21,963,000,000.

Interest from the two trust funds nearly pays for all Social Security Administration operating costs, officials say. Consequently, almost all of the money paid into the funds by workers and employers is used for benefit payments.

One of the most common misconceptions is that the social security trust funds are in the red. This belief is based on the fact that social security does not carry a 100 per cent reserve as private insurance companies must do. It is not necessary for social security to maintain a 100 per cent reserve because it is not a voluntary program. The taxes will continue to be paid by present and future generations.

In addition to the trustees report, there are periodic studies carried out by advisory councils. These councils are made up of persons well known in government, industry, insurance and large universities.

The most recent report was made by an advisory council headed by Reinhard A. Hoha-is, vice president and chief actuary of The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Some other members of this 13-man council were Elliot V. Bell, chairman of the executive committee, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., Inc.; J. Douglas Brown, dean of the faculty, Princeton University; Carl H. Fischer, professor of Actuarial Mathematics and Insurance, University of Michigan, and Robert A. Hornby, president, Pacific Light Corp. The conclusion of this council was that social security is soundly financed and that there will be funds available to pay future benefits.

Along with the idea that social security is in the red, some people believe that general government funds are being used to pay benefits and thus increasing the national debt.

This is not the case and never has been. Social security is financed entirely by the social security taxes. The amount and types of benefits paid have always been studied carefully to insure that the social security taxes will yield enough revenue to cover the payments both at the present time and in the future.

John J. Dempsey, 73, Rural Mail Carrier For Half Century, Dies

BEAR CREEK — John J. Dempsey, 73, a Bear Creek mail carrier for more than a half century, died at midnight Friday after a short illness.

He was born March 23, 1897, in Bear Creek. He first served as a Deer Creek mail carrier and later, when the route was consolidated with Bear Creek, he took over the new route. He retired from the postal department Oct. 1, 1957.

Survivors include a son, a daughter, six grandchildren, a brother and two sisters.

Funeral arrangements, still incomplete, are being handled by the Cline and Hanson Funeral Home, New Lodon.

apparently has no intention of shunting him off into a corner. He has already proposed that the government establish an official residence for the vice president.

But from present indications and reports the President has enough work lined up for Humphrey that he will have little leisure time at home.

In addition to the other vice-presidential assignments, Johnson is said to want Humphrey to keep an eye on such departments as labor, agriculture and health, education and welfare, and to act as a lightning rod for ideas in government. He may also make use of the Minnesota's bright image abroad by giving him overseas missions.

If all this holds true, it doesn't seem likely anyone will be asking, "whatever happened to Hubert Humphrey?"

Waupaca Edges Manawa '5' in Overtime Battle

Marion Nips Amherst, 70-68; Wittenberg Romps Over Wautoma

Barnburners dominated Central Wisconsin Conference basketball games Friday night. It took Waupaca an overtime to edge Manawa, 87-85, and clutch shooting by LeRoy Mielke to give Marion a 70-68 triumph over Amherst. In the other CW game, Wittenberg romped past Wautoma, 83-46.

Both Waupaca and Manawa entered last night's game with 1-0 conference marks. A close battle all the way, the score was deadlocked 79-79 after regulation play. The loosely played game showed little defense, but a defensive play by Dave Peterson is what saved the game in regulation play for the Comets. Manawa was stalling with a two point lead in the closing seconds of play when Peterson stole the ball and scored to deadlock the count at 79 apiece.

In the overtime the Comets capitalized on free throws to win the contest. Jeff Looker, who had 7 points entering the overtime period, dropped in four charity tosses; Peterson dropped in two and Rick Fowler canned a basket. Manawa's Bill Testin got the Wolves off to an 81-79 overtime lead, but the Comets came back to score eight straight points. Testin and Dennis Knaach closed out Manawa's scoring with baskets.

Dahlke Scores 24

High point man for Waupaca was Chuck Dahlke with 24 points. Peterson collected 22. Ace guard Testin paced the Wolves with 29 markers, while Dan Steinbach chipped in with 18 and Jim Trantow with 17.

At Marion, both the Mustangs and Amherst were possessors of 0-1 marks. The Falcons led 42-40 at the half and continued to lead after three periods, 56-52. With Amherst still leading 60-58 with four minutes to play, Mielke, who had been sitting on the bench with four fouls, came in to knot the score. The Falcons once again took the lead, but Mielke popped in two consecutive baskets and two free throws, giving Marion a 66-62 lead.

Frailling led the victors with 25 points. Jolin canned 17 and Mielke 13. John Pitt's 18 points set the pace for Amherst. Rael and Milius followed with 15 apiece.

In the Wittenberg runaway against Wautoma, Steve Voelz dominated both boards and Greg Cowles played a fine floor game for the Wildcats. The Wildcats jumped off to an 18-6 first quarter lead and increased it to 43-13 at halftime. The hometowners also outscored their opponents in each of the second half quarters. The Wildcats swished 32 field goals as compared to only 17 for the Hornets.

Preparing for Storms

Calumet County Road Crews Hang Snow Fence to Prevent Winter Drifts

CHILTON — Calumet County highway department crews this week are "hanging" snow fence throughout the county in preparation for the drifting winter snow they anticipate.

Calumet County, one of the smaller counties in the state, each year has about 20 miles of the drift prevention fence. About 40 per cent of the fence put up for the year is for snow control on state highways. For this the county received .017 cents per foot.

In 1963, a total of 39,980 feet of fence was put up for the state highways for which the county received $679.

Each year the county has about 45,000 feet of fencing on the county's 110 miles of trunk highways.

After the first frost the fence is hung on the posts to prevent its being blown over.

Start in Summer

In addition to putting up snow fence, county employees in late summer start preparing a special formula sand and sodium chloride mixture and readying equipment for the snow removal.

This year 238 tons of salt were delivered to the garage in Chilton to be mixed with about 300 yards of sand. About 250 pounds of sodium chloride is added to five yards of sand for easier handling.

The salt, sand and chloride mixture, when spread on intersections, hills and curves in the county forms an abrasion on the packed snow and ice to make highways safer.

Included in county winter maintenance equipment are seven large "V" type plows with side wings, 16 one-way mold board plows, five motor graders and with the "V" type plows, and six sand spreaders.

For use on town roads and city streets each of the 17 county municipalities has at least one large "V" type plow and trucks for clearing roads for travel.

Last year a total of $12,153 was spent for county trunk winter maintenance with $20,000 included in the 1965 adopted budget for the operation of the winter crews.

Eight-Day Festival

Jews to Light Flames Of Chanukah Sunday

Jews in the Fox Cities and throughout the world again kindle the Chanukah lights Sunday evening, as they rededicate themselves to what is probably the oldest known religious observance in behalf of civil rights and personal liberty.

Chanukah, the eight-day Festival of Lights, has its origins in a historical event which can be traced back to the year 168 B.C. when a small band of Jewish zealots, led by the patriarch Matathias and his five sons, rebelled against the political and religious tyranny of Antiochus Epiphanes, Syrian ruler of the Greek empire in the Middle East.

As an additional candle is kindled in the Menorah (candelabrum) on the successive nights of the holiday, Jewish families gather around the small flames to recite the story of the defeat of the mighty Greek army by a small band of guerilla fighters who for three years refused to capitulate to either military might or spiritual extinction.

Maccabean Victory

The Chanukah festival recalls

this Maccabean victory, which was climaxed by their triumphant entry into Jerusalem and the rededication there of the Holy Temple. According to an ancient legend, as the Jews were cleansing the temple, seeking oil for the darkened everlasting light, a cruse was found with sufficient fuel for only one day.

Miraculously, the lamp burned for eight days until new oil could be made and consecrated for use. This legend has become the basis for the eight-day celebration of Chanukah.

Joyous Holiday

The Hebrew word "Chanukah" means rededication. The festival is a joyous holiday and observed in both the home and the synagogue. At home as the candles are lit, songs are sung, the historic Chanukah story is read and the children receive small gifts.

Appleton Jewish congregations observe the holiday primarily in the home. The children in the first four grades of the Moses Montefiore Synagogue's Sunday school will present a Chanukah program at 2:30 p.m. Dec. 6. The sermon theme at the Moses Montefiore service at 8:15 p.m. Friday will be on Chanukah.

Zion Temple Congregation observed the holiday during its regular services Friday. Members of Beth Israel Congregation will observe the festival in their homes.

Chanukah is one of the minor festivals of the Jewish people, which means it is a historical rather than a Biblical holiday.

17-Year-Old Picked Up at Appleton Home; Police to Seek Waiver From Juvenile Court

MENASHA — Authorities are holding a 17-year old Appleton youth for slashing of a Menasha woman with a hunting knife Wednesday afternoon and then cutting the telephone wire at her home.

The youth was picked up at his home about 10 p.m. Wednesday by Appleton police.

Menasha Police Chief Lester Clark said they would seek waiver of juvenile court jurisdiction over the youth so he could be charged and tried in adult court. A hearing was to be held before Winnebago County Juvenile Court Judge James Sarres to day.

Not Seriously Hurt

The woman was not seriously injured but her hand was cut when she grabbed the knife by the blade and he pulled the knife away from her. He cut the telephone receiver wire at her home after calling for a taxicab about 1 p.m. Wednesday. He then fled from her house on foot and was the object of a search by Menasha, Neenah and Appleton police.

Police are still seeking a motive for the attack although it is believed he originally fled from the car he was driving because he did not have a driver's license.

The incident started shortly before 1 p.m. when the car the youth was driving east on Seventh Street was clocked speeding by a Menasha patrolman working with radar. The youth ran a stop sign at Seventh and Racine Streets and then turned south onto Warsaw Street where he abandoned the car in the middle of the street.

The driver and another youth fled from the car on foot with the second youth being picked up a short time later on Manitowoc Road. He was released after questioning.

The driver appeared at a Ninth Street house a few minutes after fleeing his car and asked the woman if he could use the telephone. After he called for a cab, the woman said he held a hunting knife against her, cutting her when she grabbed the blade. He then cut the telephone wire and fled.

Vocational School Boards Back Regional Institution

Three of Five Governing Bodies
Include Conditions in Resolutions

Resolutions favoring the concept of an area vocational organization of an area school have been adopted by all five Fox Cities vocational school boards, with three of the five including conditions related to continuation of local programs.

Discussion of organization of a Fox Cities area vocational school to offer post-high school technical and vocational courses has been underway since last spring by a committee representing the Appleton, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha vocational and adult school boards.

A resolution formally stating its support for organization of an area school was passed Nov. 12 by the Appleton board. Resolutions of support for the area concept have also been passed by the other four boards, but those passed by the Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha boards specify certain conditions.

The Kimberly board's resolution, like that of the Appleton board, sets up no conditions.

Development Plan The area school study committee Tuesday instructed the five school directors to develop a detailed plan for the structure and operation of a proposed Co. Lund formerly owned Lund area school, for consideration by the committee, the local boards and the state board.

area for its first years of operation be studied.

The Neenah board went on record unanimously Nov. 19 "favoring the area concept of vocational and technical education" providing it can be accomplished under certain conditions. The board asked "assurance that services now provided locally will be continued" and that the area school "does not eliminate local control over programs now offered locally."

It also said legal procedures must be clearly established, and asked a complete plan in writing, outlining purpose, benefits, scope, size and costs of an area school, and conferences with the city council and Neenah joint school district board on probable impact on the local tax rate, before a final decision can be made.

The Kaukauna board Tuesday went on record "favoring a concept of an area post-high school technical institute in the central Fox River Valley," with the condition that "this board must be assured that the existing and proposed legislation does not dissolve the local board of vocational and adult education, or interfere with the board's jurisdiction and function in the operation of its own local program of vocational and adult education."

May Modify Kaukauna delegates at the area committee meeting Tuesday indicated this position might be modified.

The Kimberly board went on record favoring an area school without specifying conditions. Its resolution noted that if the five vocational school boards adopt an overall area plan, this will be presented to the five public school boards, which must appoint an area vocational school board. The area board's first duty would be to hire an administrator and get authorization to hire an architect and design a building.

State Director of Vocational and Adult Education Clarence Greiber has recommended the five districts form a single district with one board, which would operate a central school for post-high school programs and continue local programs in each community.

Dual Ceremonies

Restrictions Eased on Catholic Inter-marriages

BY BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Recent action by the Vatican Ecumenical Council on marriage laws of the Roman Catholic Church is likely to make it easier in the future to get permission for dual wedding ceremonies when Catholics and non-Catholics marry, a Vatican expert said today.

The big test in each case will be the religious conscience of the non-Catholic partner in the match the source said.

He was commenting on the wedding Nov. 14 in New Bedford, Mass., of a Roman Catholic girl and a Greek Orthodox man. A special dispensation from Pope Paul VI allowed them to have both Roman and Orthodox ceremonies.

Consciences Eased

The Vatican official said he was not familiar with that particular case but noted "The Church has been looking for ways to help out in such a way that the consciences of both parties will not be violated. This (dual ceremonies) could become one of the ways."

"The New Bedford case might be a forerunner in which first there would be an increase in the number of special dispensations, with the exception then becoming the rule."

The Ecumenical Council took two actions concerning mixed marriages before recessing last Saturday.

It decreed a document "on the Oriental Catholic Churches" putting into effect Catholic recognition of the validity of marriages between Eastern-Rite Catholics and Orthodox Catholics when performed before an Orthodox minister.

Vatican Experts

It also turned over to Pope Paul VI, for Vatican experts to revise, a draft document containing suggested changes in Church marriage laws affecting all mixed marriages.

The bishops will submit further suggestions on marriage laws in coming months. Some reportedly want a law that would allow any local Catholic bishop to dispense with the presence of a Catholic priest at a mixed marriage when the non-Catholic involved objects to his presence on the basis of sincere religious belief.

If that should come about, mixed marriages could take place in Protestant and Orthodox churches with the minister of the non-Catholic church officiating, and no Catholic ceremony would be necessary.

Leeman Homemakers Will Exchange Gifts

LEEMAN — Members of the Leeman Homemaker Club decided they would exchange gifts at their Christmas party Dec. 10. A supper also will be served.

At the planning meeting this week Mrs. Frank Kohle presented the lesson on first aid.

Church of England's Course In the Future Is Undecided

BY GODFREY ANDERSON

LONDON (AP) — Will Britain's new prime minister seek to modernize the Church of England?

Some of the clergy think he will. They contend an unreformed Church would stand out like a sore thumb in the kind of Britain he is aiming at.

Although a Congregationalist himself, Harold Wilson by his office now is largely responsible for ecclesiastical appointments in the Church of England, the state established church. Bishops, cathedral deans, even some canons and lesser clergy are appointed by the monarch on Wilson's nomination. He could change the look of things by picking young men to the now aging bench of bishops.

There are 43 diocesan and 40 suffragan bishops in the Church of England today. The oldest is the 74-year-old Bishop of Sodor and Man, the youngest the 49-year-old Bishop of Southwell. Their average age is around 60. There is no fixed retiring age.

To be a bishop in the Church of England you must be "a learned presbyter" — priest — at least 30 years old, born in lawful wedlock, and of good life and behavior.

You will be addressed as right reverend and have the legal style of "my lord bishop." You may marry but, if you do, your wife will have no title or precedence at public functions. In rank you will be above a baron and below a viscount, marquess, earl or duke.

The two archbishops — Canterbury and York — sit with 24 of the other bishops in the House of Lords as spiritual peers. The bishops of London, Durham and Winchester sit there by right of their sees, the others by seniority of their consecration to the episcopacy.

Before taking office a bishop must follow the feudal form of homage to the reigning monarch. He must kneel, placing his hands between those of the queen, recite the temporal oath of allegiance and kiss the royal hand.

It may fall to Wilson to appoint successors in several sees. He will get plenty of advice from the Archbishop of Canterbury downward whenever a vacancy occurs. But he doesn't have to follow it.

Remarkably that some seemed well-satisfied by the mystery which shrouds crown appointments of bishops, the Church of England paper commented recently.

Satisfied Churchman

"But for every satisfied churchman there must be eight or nine who are reluctant to concede divine guidance to the old boy."

"Here then are some principles which should guide the prime minister. He should look for candidates for the office of bishop who are still in their 30s. He should aim at cathedral staffs with initiative as well as scholarship. He should season the bench of bishops with a handful of men who are at home in the modern world."

Harold Wilson, the man who managed a Congregationalist minister's daughter, may yet give the establishment that shake-up part of it seems to wish.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS—1

"O little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie..."

The words of this famous carol by The Rev. Phillips Brooks were inspired by a visit he made to Bethlehem at Christmas-time in 1866. The beautiful tune for the carol was written by his organist, Lewis Redner, while Mr. Brooks was pastor at the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia. His faith has given us a carol for all time and a prayer that can be repeated again and again.

"O holy Child of Bethlehem!
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born in us today!"

Society Aids Homeless Chilton Family

CHILTON — Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society at St. Mary Catholic Church are collecting clothing and household items for Fred Reese Jr., family of rural New Holstein which was left homeless in a Friday morning fire.

Clothing for the four small children, ranging in age from a seven-year-old boy and three girls, 5, 3 and an infant also is being collected.

A spokesman for the society said much of the clothing, furniture and bedding, is available but more may be needed when the needs of the family are known.

The Reese home was burned to the ground in a fire discovered by them at about 2:45 a.m. Friday. New Holstein township firemen were unable to save the home.

Cause of the fire and total damage have not been determined.

Yale Professor Tells Of Arrest in Russia

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn of Yale grinned shyly, then laughed when he said he's still on the Soviet Union's mailing list.

Pravda, Izvestia and other Soviet newspapers haven't stopped coming to Barghoorn in the year since he was imprisoned on a charge of spying and then expelled from the Soviet Union.

Barghoorn has spent most of that Barghoorn had been arrested "the other day" on a charge of spying.

The news shocked the Yale University community and Barghoorn's colleagues. Protests were raised about the arrest of the scholar who had made several previous trips to the Soviet Union and who had served at the American Embassy in Moscow from 1942 to 1947.

Personal Concern

President John F. Kennedy expressed his personal concern. On Nov. 16, the Soviet government announced it was washing its hands of the matter, cited Kennedy's concern and expelled Barghoorn.

Bachelor Barghoorn, 53, still lives in an efficiency apartment next door to that of his 81-year-old mother, Elizabeth Barghoorn.

Would he like to go back to the Soviet Union?

"Not for a few years," is all Barghoorn will say.

Barghoorn currently has the title of "Ford rotating research professor of public affairs" at Yale — a status that keeps him free of classes and enables him to work on his book, tentatively titled "Politics in Russia."

"I'm afraid it will have to undergo some revisions," he says with typical understatement.

"It's an occupational hazard in this field."

"I was hoping Khrushchev would stay in power until I finished the book. I didn't anticipate the way he would leave."

Third Order of St. Francis

Fraternity will sponsor an information forum at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the St. Joseph Catholic School cafeteria.

The Rev. Kurt Gessner, O. F. M. Cap., assistant pastor of St. Joseph and new director of the fraternity, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by the officers and the men and women promoters.

A film on the Third Order will be shown, followed by a question and answer period and a social hour.

Missionary Will Speak In Appleton

Rev. Richard Palmer, recently returned from Peru, South America, will speak at the services on Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church.

At the 10:45 a.m. service he will speak on missions activities in Latin America where he has spent 16 years as an Assemblies of God missionary.

At the 7:00 p.m. service he will tell of the native life there as well as show films, costumes, and curios. The Rev. Hillestad, pastor of the local Assembly of God Church, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend these services.

For the past five years the Rev. Palmer has been engaged in Bible School activities, first in the interior areas of Peru and later at the Assemblies of God Bible School in Lima.

Rev. Palmer pioneered the work in southeastern Peru in the old Inca capital of Cuzco, 11,380 feet above sea-level. He was in Cuzco for six years before assuming the responsibilities of the Lima Bible School.

After furlough, the Rev. and Mrs. Palmer will return to Peru.

Klein, veteran missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, were given their awards in a ceremony in New York. The presentation was made by the Gabonese Ambassador to the United States and Canada, Aristide N. E. Issembe. The Rev. Mr. Klein's home is in Lima, Ohio, and Mrs. Klein was born in Ogden, Utah. He is now the area secretary for all of the work of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Africa.

Appleton Family to Work in Missions

Commissioning services will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Faith Lutheran Church for the entire family of a layman who is taking up work in New Guinea because of his conviction that "it's not enough simply to preach the Gospel to others."

James Barton, formerly assistant treasurer of Appleton Coated Paper Co., will leave with his wife and four children from Milwaukee on Dec. 6 and arrive in Wapenamanda, New Guinea, on Dec. 12.

In New Guinea he will be field treasurer, in charge of all financial and accounting records for the mission operation conducted jointly by the Wabag Lutheran Church and The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. His service will enable his predecessor to devote full time to the development of the national's economy.

Primitive conditions in the mission field compelled the synod to establish its own electrical power sources, agriculture, medicine and education. Under the leadership of missionary personnel, a cooperative was established a year ago under the name Waso Ltd. Now U. S. mission officials are considering disposing of coffee plantations, logging operations, and an agricultural station with 150 head of cattle in return for stock in the cooperative.

Spiritual, Physical

"People in New Guinea want both hands of God, the spiritual and physical," Barton said. He explained that their national religions associate both factors closely. "Bringing them only the Gospel, confuses them," he explained, "unless we can explain and demonstrate a total and related concern."

Medical missions has boosted the population explosion by cutting down early mortality and "we must show the people how to support this additional population and enjoy the benefits of modern technology," the lay worker explained.

The entire family is enthusiastic about their new vocation. "The decision to enter mission work," Barton says, "comes from the need to be consistent about Christian faith and life. Recent months have been spent at Concordia Seminary and headquarters of the Synod in St. Louis where the Barton family learned about their future home, mission program and policies.

Moscow Bar Open but Only For Dollars

MOSCOW (AP) — The nightcap set in Moscow has finally found a bar that stays open after midnight. But you need dollars or some other "hard" Western currency to get a drink.

The reaction has been the same as it would be in New York if only one bar stayed open until 2 a.m. and the bartenders demanded payment in rubles.

Unlike New York taverns, which stay open until 4 a.m., Moscow watering spots in the big downtown hotels close at midnight and sometimes before. The lights go out and stragglers are politely coaxed to leave.

About two weeks ago, Moscow's National Hotel at the foot of Gorky St. near Red Square decided to keep its bar open until 2 a.m.

But the bar's practice of buying liquor in the West with dollars and selling it here for rubles apparently was causing a drain on Russia's precious supply of hard currency needed to buy goods in the West.

Suddenly the new cafe closed. When it reopened the policy was strictly Western money for drinks.

Several thirsty patrons from Communist East Germany indignantly stormed out Friday night when they found their money was no good.

So did a British subject who got caught short with only rubles in his pocket.

Flexibility In Playing The Trumps

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
National Men's Team Champion

When you learn the best way to play a suit from the textbooks you may take it for granted that you can lead from the dummy as often as you like. In real life this is seldom true. You must do your best with the entries that you happen to have.

The defenders took two spades and shifted to clubs. South, a bookish player, won with the ace of clubs, entered dummy with a diamond, and returned a low trump for a finesse with the queen of hearts. The idea was to guard against a singleton king of hearts in the East hand. Leading the jack would cost a trick if East could cover with the singleton king, for West would then have 9-x-x of trumps and would win a trick with the nine.

After winning the first trump, South led a second diamond to dummy and returned the jack of hearts. It was too late, for East covered with the king to force out the ace.

South needed a third trump finesse to pick up East's nine, but when South led a third diamond to dummy East ruffed. This doomed the contract.

Needed Third Entry

South's line of play would have been good if he had held at least one high club in the dummy. With the actual hand he should have led the jack of hearts from dummy for the very first trump finesse.

This would lose if East had the singleton king, but this danger was somewhat remote. There was just as much danger that East had K-x-x of trumps and only one diamond. There was also the danger that East had four trumps.

With the actual hand, East would cover dummy's jack with the king to force out the ace. South would discover the bad trump break on leading the queen of hearts next. He would then get to dummy with a second diamond to finesse through the nine of hearts.

Bridge players with champagne tastes must adapt to beer pocketbooks.

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S A Q 8 7, H K 9 7 3, D 8 7, C J 9 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. With two four-card suits, respond first in the cheaper suit. Hearts can be bid more cheaply than spades.

Federal Control Being Planned For 'Pep Pill' Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration plans to ask for legislation making the possession of pep pills illegal. The pills are becoming a big money item in organized crime because of lack of federal control, says George P. Larrick, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration.

Arrests for possession of the pills can only be made now if the federal agents can prove the pills moved across state boundaries.

Larrick said bigtime racketeers are being attracted to the pep pill trade by the lure of large profits. The pills can be bought for $1 a thousand and peddled for 5 to 10 cents a pill, he said.

Your Problems

'Inedible Bodies' In Salads, Desserts Cause Ruffled Poise

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If this had happened to me only once I would overlook it, but since it seems to be a recurring problem, I need some advice.

What does one do when he is a guest in a home and is served food which contains some foreign and inedible body?

Several months ago a beautifully arranged salad was placed before me. Under one of the lettuce leaves was a dead bug. I almost gagged when I saw it but managed to control myself.

A few weeks later I was served a fly in the soup. This occurred in a restaurant so I simply sent the soup back. (The waiter apologized.)

Last night it happened again — at a dinner party in the home of a friend. The dessert was peaches and ice cream. I was half way through the dessert when I spotted two little worms on a peach section. I was talking with the hostess at the time and heroically ate around the little creatures.

What shall I do if this sort of thing occurs again? — Not Hungry.

Dear Not: Just keep on doing what you're doing. So far you've fielded the emergencies with admirable aplomb. Anyone who can eat around worms and carry on a conversation with the hostess doesn't need advice from me.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: How do I break the news to a woman that it's all over? I'm a divorced man who has been going with a 42-year-old woman for almost four years. She has never been married, owns her own home, plus other inherited property. I'm afraid she's too comfortable for her own good. I asked her two years ago to set the date but she never got around to it.

Three months ago I ran into a woman I used to know back in Montana. Her husband died last year and she moved to this city to live with her widowed sister. The second time I took her out I knew she's a wonderful wife for me. She said "yes" on our fourth date.

Now how do I tell the other woman without hurting her feelings? After all, I took up four years of her time. — Alex

Dear Alex: Your solicitude is unwarranted. A 42-year-old maiden lady who has been dragging her feet on the way to the altar isn't going to take the news very hard. She may even be relieved.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My three married daughters are always having trouble with their husbands. They all have children, which, in my eyes, is reason enough to keep a home together even if it isn't all honey and roses.

For the past six years one daughter or another has been at home with me at least half the time. They just show up at the door with their children and say, "I've left him for good this time."

In a few days the husband appears and they sit down and talk things over for half an hour. Then they leave together — happy.

If they can talk it over in my living room, why can't they talk it over in their own living room? I've told them repeatedly I don't want to be involved in their family troubles and not to come running home. They come anyway. At the moment two girls are here with their five children. I can't lock them out. What's the solution? — Unwitting Accomplish.

Dear Unwitting: Prove you mean business by saying, "Come in. I will phone a hotel for you because you can't stay here."

When they have to shell out money for room and board they won't run away from their husbands so fast.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Post-Crescent enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

PLAN OF ATTACK FOR EXECUTIVE WITH 51 YEARS AND NO JOB

DEAR CY:

At 51, I am what society refers to as a "displaced executive." Prospective employers see me and think they can hire a younger man for less money. (They may be right.) I have decided to get my own business started or a job which can lead to it. Please give me the name of a specific company which can help me. P.S. I will move myself and my family to Singapore if necessary. —OLD HARRY

DEAR HARRY:

No one can point to a certain firm and say, "There is your rainbow, Harry. Grab the golden pot and run." As a start, however, suppose you contact Mr. Marion E. Wade, chairman of the board of Wade, Wenger, Servicemaster. Mr. Wade started selling mothproofing in 1929 when jumping off tall buildings was a popular sport. Through the years, with Ty Cobb determination, this soft-spoken blast furnace built a successful business philosophy and service organization. It does on-premise cleaning of wall-to-wall carpeting, upholstered furniture, walls, floors . . . of homes, offices, hospitals. (White House visitors have seen its work.) According to Mr. Wade, "The three important experiences in my life were in professional baseball, the U.S. Marines, and with the Holy Bible." They add up to 600 franchised associates throughout the U.S. and the world. Upon inquiring at 2300 Warrenville Rd., Downers Grove, Illinois, you can get an idea of how it is possible for a man to start gripping a mop and end up folding a franchise. I cite Mr. Wade's firm as an example. Companies you contact should offer a wide spectrum of opportunities demanding skills which can be learned through the parent firm. With geographical dispersion of income-producing units, such a firm can consider your willingness to relocate a plus. Reach organiza-

had called on no government to put down the Congolese rebellion and pointed out it was not brought before the Security Council when Tanganyika, Uganda, Zanzibar and Gabon got their former colonial rulers "to put down their rebellions."

Total May Grow to 150

Refugees flown here from Paulis brought reports of massacres in the village of Wamba, a nearby trading post. They said as many as 45 white hostages may have been killed. If confirmed, the deaths would make the total of white victims about 150.

During the months of rebel attacks and subsequent occupation of a vast area of northern and eastern Congo, it is estimated they killed thousands of Congolese, concentrating on educated administrators.

The rebels demonstrated Friday that although their leader, Christopher B. Gbenye, and his high command apparently have fled toward the Sudan, that they still have fighting strength.

Plane Under Heavy Fire

A U.S. Air Force C130 came under heavy rebel fire as it brought the last white survivors out of Paulis, a railroad town near the Congo's northeast border.

Several hundred rebels made a new attack on Stanleyville Airport, where the American transports were grouping for the flight south to Kamina, in Katanga Province, last stop on their way out of Africa.

Belgian paratroopers joined Congolese forces in repelling the attack. No casualty figures were given.

In addition, the rebels harried while mercenary forces under South African Maj. Michael Hoare with mortar fire when they moved across the Congo River at Stanleyville.

Comment in London

Officials said that 250 to 300 whites were believed in the northeastern Congo area still held by rebels and that their position is precarious. But they are said to be far from air strips, making a further paratroop operations unfeasible.

Nearly 2,000 white refugees have reached Leopoldville. Hundreds already have been flown home to Belgium, Britain, the United States and other countries.

In London, the conservative Daily Telegraph said, "this is a fitting time to thank Belgium for a prompt and courageous action which also brought rescue to many British subjects and Commonwealth citizens."

Reunion Goal

"What the league is working and praying for is corporate reunion — not individual reunion — where what we call an evangelical rite will be established for the Lutherans under the Pope with its own liturgy, canon law and theology. We have all sorts of rites under the Pope now, you know," he said.

He also emphasizes his role in Oxford is "to take part in establishment of a religious community for Lutherans."

The Rev. Kreinheder, former Detroit department store employee and Navy veteran of World War II, went to Sweden to study theology in 1950. He was ordained a Lutheran minister in Sweden in 1956, the same year that he organized the Fellowship of St. Augustine with 15 other Lutherans interested in ecumenism.

During the months of building a new retreat house, the Rev. Kreinheder lived in a rented trailer and then in portable field

Memorial Funds Set For Carlson Family

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two groups of physicians have established a memorial fund for the family of Dr. Paul Carlson, the medical missionary slain in the Congo.

The county medical association and the county physicians aid association said Friday the Physicians Aid Carlson Fund was started "to assure his family of our sympathetic insight into the principles and ideals that guided him and them."

Dr. Carlson practiced medicine in the Los Angeles area briefly before leaving for the Congo, where he was killed in a massacre of whites by Congolese rebels at Stanleyville.

A spokesman for the medical association said he had been informed that Dr. Carlson's financial assets and life insurance funds were very small.

Earlier, the California Conference of the Evangelical Covenant Church of America, the doctor's church, announced the establishment of a memorial trust fund for Dr. Carlson's widow and two children.

pers, officers shouted "hooligans" at the students, one of whom shot back, "We are not hooligans. We are patriots."

At the U.S. Embassy, police took stern measures when the demonstration got out of hand. One officer slugged an African student in the face, knocking him to the ground, and then kicked the student.

The car set on fire belonged to the New York Times bureau in Moscow.

Students first tore off the door of the car and carried it away. Then they threw lighted matches on the upholstery, engulfing the car with flames. Smoke billowed across broad Tchaikovsky Boulevard outside the embassy, snarling traffic.

Slogans On Walls

Students staged a similar demonstration at the Belgian embassy.

The demonstrators at the U.S. Embassy ripped through a cordon of 100 policemen to hang anti-U.S. slogans on the walls. Two students tried to climb a fence but were hauled down.

"Hands Off the Congo" and "Shame to Colonizers" read signs of the demonstrators.

The embassy was tipped off that a possible demonstration would be staged to protest the U.S. role in the Congo rescue mission. Students at the university were reported massing before the march.

Embassy personnel had screens placed behind windows to catch flying glass. One of two gates leading to a rear courtyard was also closed off.

The outbreak was the first against the U.S. Embassy since

U. S. Intervention in the Congo

The senseless murders of three American missionaries and over 50 other whites by Congolese rebels was a sickening event. It served to remind all of us that normal standards of civilized conduct still are not observed in many areas of the world. But the combined humanitarian efforts of the American and Belgian governments which saved most of the hostages is bound to win us added respect despite the rantings of the Communists.

American pilots flew the U.S. transport planes which carried the Belgian paratroopers to Stanleyville and Paulis. The relief expeditions were closely coordinated with the advance of Premier Tshombe's Congolese army. Had they arrived a few minutes sooner they might have saved the lives of all the hostages, including America's now famous Dr. Paul Carlson. But had they arrived a few minutes later many more would have died.

The American intervention in the Congo revolt was exclusively for humanitarian purposes, but it may turn out to be a damaging blow to ambitions of the Chinese Communists to establish a foothold in Africa.

The responsibility for the decision of the United States to help in ferrying Belgian paratroopers ahead of the attacking Congolese army into Stanleyville was taken, as it should be, by President Johnson as commander in chief of our armed forces. It is similar to his orders last summer to bomb the PT boat bases in Hanoi after attacks on U.S. naval vessels sailing in international waters. It may well represent a tougher new attitude in various parts of the world where irresponsible elements threaten American lives.

It will be charged, especially by some black Africans sensitive about their newly won authority, that the attack by the paratroopers led to the massacre of some fifty white hostages. In the immediate sense the charge may be true. But the risk had to be taken. Some 1650 other hostages were rescued. And there was no way of telling that all would not be murdered at any moment at the whim of the rebel and Communist led captors. The reports of American officials held prisoner during the period indicated the temper of the rebels and their lack of restraint or recognition of international accords governing the treatment of prisoners of war or civilian non-combatants.

It appears now that the Congolese army, aided by Belgians, U.S. planes and white mercenaries, has a good chance of defeating the rebels. It is important that all efforts to this end be made. The rebels are not merely ignorant tribesmen struggling for local autonomy or the preservation of tribal jurisdictions. They are being

Eliminating Post Offices

The willingness of the Johnson Administration to attack areas of government spending which for years have had immunity because of the political implications involved cannot help but draw admiration.

First the Defense Department steps up its program of closing obsolete military bases all over the country, and now President Johnson has ordered Postmaster General Gronowski to close up unnecessary post offices in an effort to get the Post Office Department on a paying basis.

Post offices in small fourth class cities have long had the protection of their representatives in Congress. Any attack on their longevity was promptly put down.

Perhaps the best example in this area is in the City of De Pere where West De Pere

International Interest Intricacies

A concrete demonstration of how intricately related are the economies of the Free World came last week when the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate from 3½ to 4 per cent immediately following action of the British government in raising its rate from 5 to 7 per cent.

The federal government has been operating on an easy money philosophy for many years. There was no inclination among economic planners in Washington to change. But the extremely unfavorable balance of payments in Britain had started a run on the British pound, and London had to take drastic action. But the American and British money markets are intimately connected. More favorable interest rates in England could well have increased the flow of American money to England. Washington's action to raise interest rates followed immediately.

The problem is that action forced by

Looking Backward

Yankee Spies in Rebeldom

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 8, 1864.

The Richmond Enquirer has a long article, of which the following is an extract, on the spy system:—

"It is well known to persons who have at all directed their attention to the matter that this city, and indeed the whole South, has been for some time infested with Yankee spies.

"They are known to have regular lines of communication which leave Richmond nightly, and evening papers reach Gen. Grant's headquarters before 3 o'clock the next morning (after publishing).

"These parties have facilities for knowing a great deal and they communicate everything to the enemy at the earliest moment. These facts have been reported to the war department (rebel war department) long since and from time to time, yet no steps have been taken in the matter.

"Our present system of detection is absurd, and productive of more evil than good, and yet it is adhered to used by the Communists, agents of Red China based in Burundi. Their aim is to communize the Congo, the southern Sudan and anything else they can grab off in Africa. And to that end they will continue to agitate rebellion, not only of black against white, but of black against black. As long as they have any measure of success, they will impede the always difficult development of orderly self government in Africa.

However, since they have centered their struggle right now in the Congo, they have made a serious mistake. In the past, the Communists tried to align themselves with the black Africans against the white imperialists. This time they are fighting a government controlled by black Africans. Moise Tshombe has been criticized for hiring white mercenaries to help in the fighting and certainly the assistance of Belgium and the United States will also come under attack as another effort at neocolonialism. But the realities indicated that the Congolese army needed such help to win. And it should also be noted that the whites are fighting under the leadership of a black Congolese government, however decisions are being made. If the Communists can be separated from their ties to the blacks, so much the better.

With careful and intelligent leadership, the Congo could develop into a meeting place for black Africa and the areas where whites retain some authority although not complete control. But the fragmentation of government authority in the Congo is almost impossible to understand in a Western nation. It will take the utmost in tactful dealing to join together the myriad of tribes, the vast areas of illiterates, the primitives barely removed from brutal tribal customs, into a nation with any kind of a sound economy and a respect for the regulations of government.

The United States would be making a big mistake, it seems to us, to become involved in the Congo militarily as we did in Viet Nam. No one can be sure at this time of the outcome. But the pipelines of communism are a lot farther away from the Congo than from Viet Nam. There is no Communist nation in Africa—yet.

To the end that there may never be, the United States should carefully give wise assistance to the government of Moise Tshombe, duly chosen according to law, just as it did to the government of Adoula even when the latter was opposing Tshombe's efforts to rule Katanga province alone.

And we have more than an academic excuse. As Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned, we must hold the rebel government personally responsible for the deaths of Americans held as hostages.

has had its own independent post office ever since the two communities on either side of the Fox River were consolidated.

Mail to West De Pere must be so addressed or it goes through a circuitous post office before it can be delivered. Delivery is often delayed by as much as a full day.

But the West De Pere postmaster has always been a potent political figure on his side of the river, and when Rep. John Byrnes tried to consolidate the two post offices a number of years ago for economy purposes he was promptly rebuffed.

New administrations over the years have promised to do something about eliminating the post office deficit. But this is the first time in memory that a President has suggested eliminating unnecessary post offices to accomplish this.

international events will also have multiple consequences within the United States. When the Federal Reserve Board raises the discount rate, it means that commercial banks must pay higher rates to borrow money and hence must eventually charge higher rates to their customers. It could lead to a general increase in the costs of borrowing and hence a tightening up of the money market.

The United States is currently enjoying the longest peacetime economic boom in its history. The fact that money has been easy to borrow at reasonable rates has certainly contributed to that boom. In fact there has been some concern that the boom might develop into uncontrolled inflation.

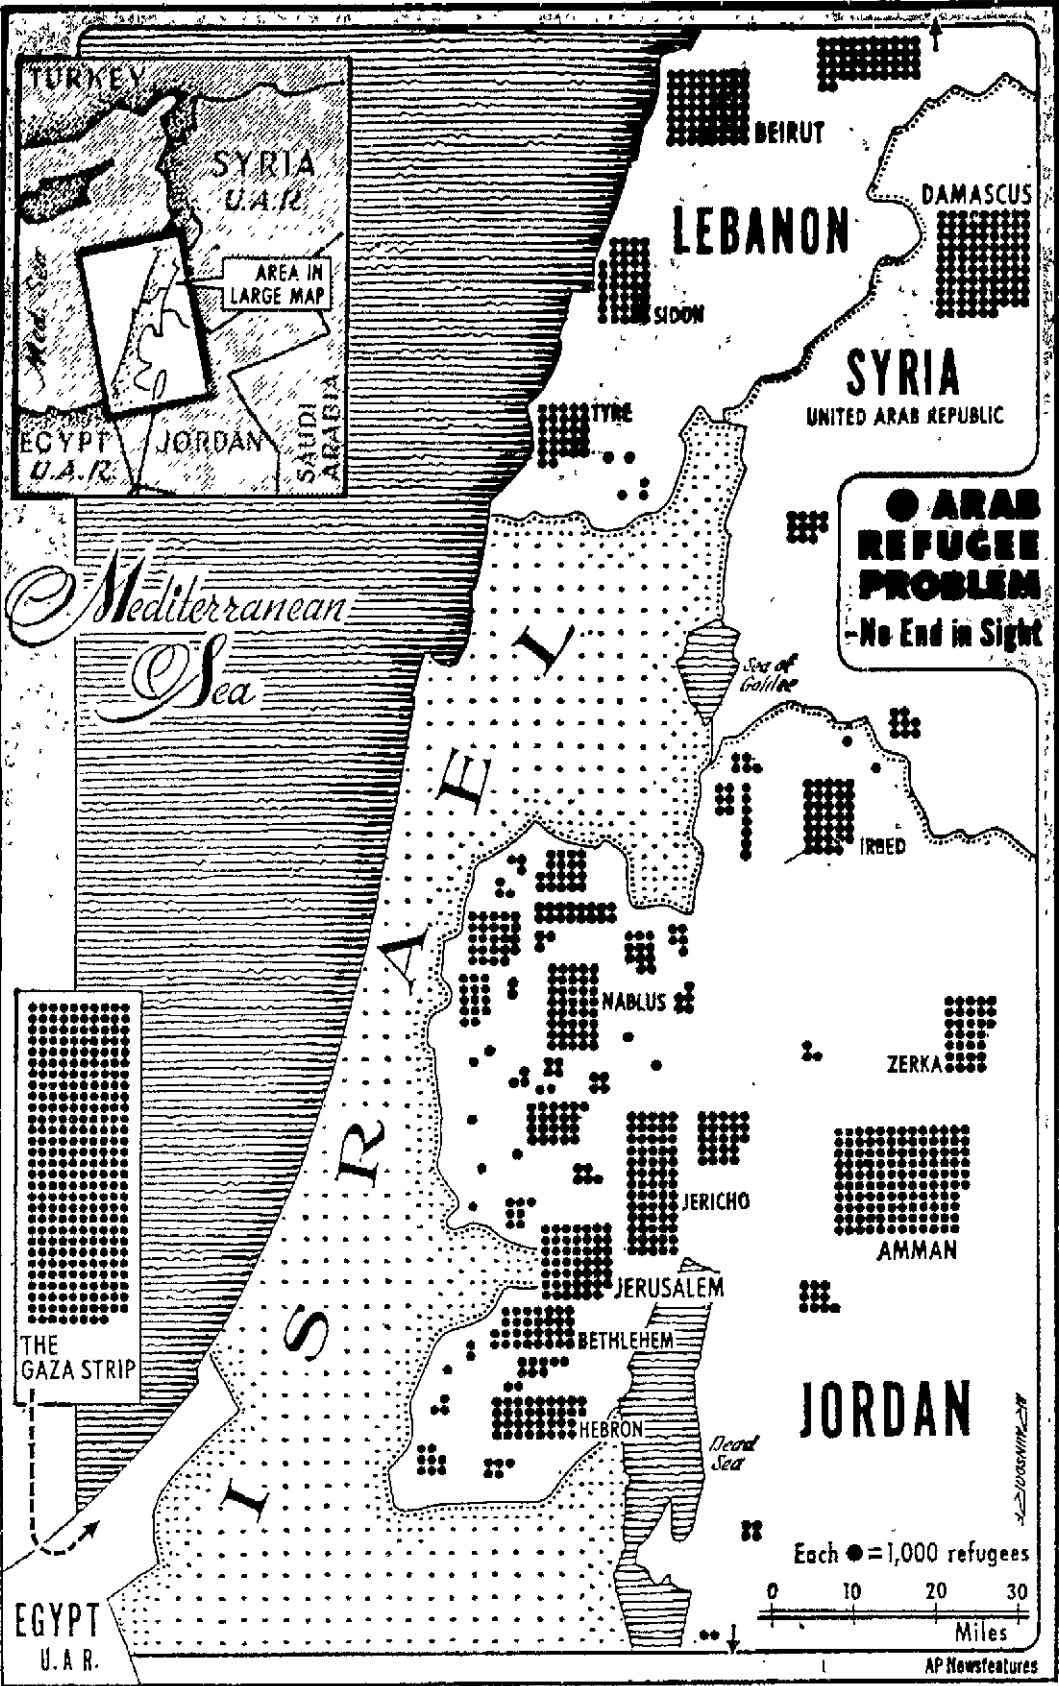

Now the question is whether the tightening up of the money market will slow economic activity. But the nation's prosperity seems to be so solidly based that no drastic effects are anticipated.

Caring for Arab Refugees in Palestine May Go on Forever

BY A. I. GOLDBERG

Associated Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Palestine refugee problem, a running political sore, continues to fester in the eastern Mediterranean area, around Israel. After 16 years, it shows little signs of healing.

Realistic United Nations officials fear it could yet cause serious trouble in the region. But despite past failures, it appears the U. S. will keep trying for a solution.

The U. N. Palestine Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) is the principal U. N. tool for taking care of the thousands of Palestine Arabs who fled their homes in what became Israel during the Palestine wars in 1948. They scattered to Jordan, Lebanon, Syria and the Gaza Strip of the United Arab Republic.

The agency has been functioning for 14 years, its lease of life extended periodically for from two to five years.

The U. N. General Assembly session, opening shortly, must decide whether the agency is to go on feeding, housing and educating the refugees at an average cost of $37 million a year.

ASKS FIVE-YEAR EXTENSION

The agency's director-general, Lawrence A. Michelmore, an American, in his report to the assembly said that if the assembly wants the agency to continue its work it should get at least a five-year extension.

With 473,113 births and 96,067 deaths registered between July 1950 and June 1964, the refugee population now is numbered at 1.2 million. Rations and special services for mothers and children go to 1.1 million. The others have found some measure of self support.

There were 48,802 births between July 1963 and June 1964, second highest figure over the years.

About 500,000 live in camps dotting the four Arab countries, the rest in villages and cities.

The newest report of the agency shows registered refugees distributed as follows:

Jordan 670,000; Gaza 289,000; Lebanon 155,000; and Syria 131,000.

Since UNRWA was set up in May 1950, governments, U. N. specialized agencies and sundry institutes and individuals have pledged $99.4 million for the aid program. The United States furnished $340 million of that total.

Numerous school and church groups around the world—31 in the United States last year—also helped with food, clothing and medical care.

The four host countries also contributed $6.5 million last year alone.

The Israelis say the refugees fled under order of Arab leaders who tried in 1948 to crush the infant Israeli state and have threatened its extermination ever since.

The Arabs say the refugees were forced from their homes by Zionist immigrants from Eastern Europe who settled in Palestine to set up an imperialist superstate in the Middle East.

Israel has said it could not comply with General Assembly resolutions saying the refugees should be allowed to return. Massive repatriation would menace Israel's security by loading the country with men, women and children taught to hate Israel, its spokesmen have said.

Israel has offered to negotiate compensation for the refugees but the tangled Middle East political situation has nullified any practical solution.

The Arab countries say they cannot absorb the refugees into their own economy. Michelmore's report notes that the countries have low employment levels to begin with. Skimpy rations, a feeling of futility about the future, Israeli fears and Arab hates all contribute to aggravation of the political wound.

Michelmore's report best expresses the pessimism about the future:

"What is not in doubt is that their (the refugees) longing to return home is intense and widespread. . . They feel that they have been betrayed and their resentment is directed not only against those whom they regard as the chief authors of their exile but also against the international community at large whom they hold responsible for the partition and loss of their homeland. . .

"As they see it, the international community has a duty to enable them to return to their homes and meanwhile to provide for their maintenance and welfare. . . A large hard core of refugees will continue to live in poverty and dependence on the charity of their fellow men for the indefinite future."

He said it would seem that most of the refugees in the Gaza Strip, many of those in Jordan and a significant number of those in the other countries will have to be cared for by the world unless some solution is found.

Only Answer to Low Level Entertainment Is Stay Away

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Mrs. H. Van Nuland's letter, and two others previously concerning the theaters and night clubs in Appleton prompted me to write also. For so long now, I have opened the Post-Crescent, which I consider a fine newspaper, and wondered about the advertising on the entertainment page. It's very sad to know that Appleton has people who operate such theaters and night clubs, and sadder yet to know our otherwise fine newspaper is being used to further exploit their low suggestive type of entertainment.

The two night clubs providing this type of show were once fine establishments when run by their former owners. Whatever happened to them? If the people who run these places were of fine character, with good personalities, they could attract business on their own good merits. What is the matter with them? Do they have such little faith in their own worth that they must hire someone to put on questionable entertainment in order to attract customers? Most people go out at night to meet other people and have fun. That type of entertainment is not necessary to a good time.

As for the movies, I think we've had enough of adult entertainment. Who needs it? What good is it doing for anyone? Does it make adults feel more adult, or does it just give teenagers more ideas? Does anyone leave the theater feeling well satisfied, or just a little sick with life? What is the motive for these movies other than to degrade the morals of America, and they're doing a pretty successful job at that.

The only answer is to stay away from these places. And let these people know they are not wanted in our community unless they clean up their standards of entertainment. Who knows, maybe we could get Appleton back to the nice place it used to be. I grew up there, so I know it was pretty nice once.

As for the Post-Crescent, well, I enjoy reading it from front to back, but there is one page I can do without. It is shocking to be reading along

Democrat Edge in State Voting Slight One, Election Shows

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—To assert that Wisconsin has re-established two party politics during the last decade is trite. The evidence is everywhere at hand, in a divided legislature, in the uncertain tenure of governors and other elected state officials, in the first competition in their lifetimes for many courthouse officers, and in a closely divided state delegation in the United States Congress.

Wyngaard

On the face of it the elections in Wisconsin during the last half dozen years have been tossups, as measured by the narrow margins in gubernatorial elections for example.

Historically the vote for governor has been a reliable measure of the voting strength of the parties, here and elsewhere. Perhaps it remains the best measure today. But the governorship has also become a delicate and dangerous place for its incumbents. So there is a disposition to employ collateral tests about the partisan preference of the electorate as a whole. The Democratic State Committee, for example, recently put together what it called a "composite" comparison of its strength in recent elections as against the Republicans, employing votes for president, governor, the legislature, congressman and U. S. senator.

FIGURES UNOFFICIAL

The statistics used were unofficial counts of the recent returns, but they are probably accurate enough. (The official report of the board of canvassers came out later, and did not alter the percentages significantly from earlier unofficial reports.)

By that measure, said Louis Hanson, the Democratic committee chairman, the Democrats polled around 54 per cent of the votes cast in the major fall elections. Clearly, if that measure is accepted as objective and valid, the Democrats represent a majority of the voters of Wisconsin as they expressed themselves on the major and policy-making positions on the ballot.

There may be some rebuttal about the validity of the choice. The courthouse offices were omitted, for example, and since the Republicans continue their powerful load in those places, their inclusion would have altered the balance slightly toward the GOP.

There is also the fact that in some of the Milwaukee city legislative districts Democrats have for some years run unopposed, with respect to the Republican ballot, which doubtless tends to inflate their total votes and thus figures in giving the Democrats an edge in a percentage measure.

Again Democratic incumbent congressmen in Milwaukee win virtually by default. Republicans have run stalking horses there, without serious hopes or intentions, for several terms. Perhaps it can be argued also that the presidential ballot this year was not a true test of the partisan allegiance of the rank and file, since there is evidence that the Republicans passed up more acceptable candidates than Sen. Goldwater who was nominated.

ON THE RECORD

Yet there would be such exceptions and qualifications in the record in any Wisconsin political year. Political analysis is concerned not with what might have been, or should have been, or used to be, but with the present reality.

The reality is that the Democrats of Wisconsin scored some gains this year, and preserved some of their gains of earlier and more uncertain victories.

The statistics tend to show that on the whole there are now more Democrats than Republicans in the Wisconsin voting population, although by such a small margin that the Republicans can overcome with any luck and care.

The figures show why top Democrats are contemplating their circumstances with some equanimity, while Republicans are generally thoughtful as they contemplate the years of battle immediately ahead.

and turn the page to see so much precious space wasted on such pictures and advertising. Surely you can do without these clients or at least if you must advertise their sins, keep it small and the least written about it the better. We don't need them, and it would be nice to know you don't either.

Student Questions Wisdom Of High School Parking Lot

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am writing this letter to express the feelings of many of the students of Appleton High School.

Some city and school officials want to put a parking lot on our campus. In order to put this parking lot in they will have to tear up the most beautiful part of our campus. The students and quite a few teachers do not want it there.

I am on the student council and I know how everyone feels about it. We figure that putting this parking lot in will only add to our problems.

We have been trying to keep the noise down in the halls and around the whole school. We are also fighting the litter problems. If we put this parking lot in, it will only bring the noise and litter closer to the school.

Besides these problems there will be the problem of traffic jams when it comes time for everyone to leave.

If this parking lot is made, it will only hold from 50 to 75 cars at the most. This will only take some cars off the streets. This action will not help us any but will only create more problems.

The student body cares too much for the campus to see it torn up for a parking lot that won't solve our problems.

Also, will this parking lot be necessary when the new high school opens?

I hope you print this letter so that people can hear our viewpoints on it. We have to be around it all the time and we have to handle all the problems it will bring.

This letter is to show that we teenagers care enough about our school to prevent this action that won't help us.

Potomac Fever— by Jack Wilson

Everybody has something to be thankful for. Take the Republicans—the next presidential election is four years off.

The President is thankful. His Great Society is just beginning, and already we've found three more whooping cranes.

TV commentators are rejoicing. It's been weeks since they've had to learn how to pronounce the name of a new Premier in South Viet Nam.

And Barry is happy now. He's going to be a columnist again. That means he can change his mind twice a week and nobody will notice.

Even Nikita Khrushchev is grateful, although he's just a follower now instead of a leader. He'd rather be led than lead.

And if you think the whole country is kind of slap-happy, just remember—this is where the Puritans found asylum.

To Your Good Health

Most Forms of Iritis Respond to Treatment

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like information on an uncommon ailment. My doctor says I have arthritis of the eye. What are the symptoms and treatment? Can it be cured? Can it impair vision or cause blindness? — F.D.J.

Are you sure, sir, that you haven't got your "itis" mixed up?

Arthritis is stiffness, pain and deformity of a joint.

An eye condition which sounds similar is iritis, inflammation of the iris or colored membrane of the eye surrounding the pupil.

Dr. Molner

It is true (although not common) that rheumatoid arthritis as well as other collagen diseases can sometimes cause inflammation of the eye as a complication, but we can't call it "arthritis of the eye" except by resorting to poetic license.

Anyway, there are many disorders and infections of the iris, from that and other causes. They produce pain, excessive flow of tears, and disturbances of vision.

Whether vision is impaired or even destroyed depends on the precise type of ailment, and depends even more on whether the ailment is treated or neglected. Since iritis may be related to infections elsewhere in the body, underlying causes should be corrected.

Antibiotics are frequently used, but for specialized cases, other treatments may be required. I refer you to your eye doctor. Most iritis responds well to treatment.

Dear Sir: Would you answer these questions about the bartholin glands:

1—Is any antibiotic effective for bartholinitis?

2—If the glands are infected, wouldn't they enlarge? (They were very much enlarged before being drained, but not since.)

3—If there is infection, would there be a discharge that would be irritating?

4—What can be done for an alkaline condition in the vaginal area? Acid douches, etc., have not helped much. Soap is irritating. — MRS. A. D.

1—Usually one or more of the antibiotics will be effective, but it is usual to drain the glands, too, as was done in your case.

2 and 3—So long as they remain open and draining, you would not expect enlargement. Any drainage would be washed away by natural secretions or by washing, and this ordinarily would avert risk of irritation.

4—There are numerous medicated douches. Rely on whatever your doctor suggests. However, douching is not going to do much good for an infected bartholin gland. These glands are situated at the outlet, not in the area that a douche would reach. Sitting in a hot bath would be more effective, both for soothing effect and for cleaning.

Dear Dr. Molner: On my radio it was recently stated that there are foods which take calories to digest. If this is so, what are they? There are thousands of nervous eaters like me who would like to eat the pounds off. I. M. W.

I didn't hear any such thing, but I've had enough letters from readers to convince me that some such logwash must have been said somewhere.

There are low-calorie foods—carrots, celery, radishes, green, leafy vegetables. You can eat a lot of them yet pick up but a few calories.

There are other foods with medium calories content. And some which are high in calories, especially sweet, gooey desserts, and any kind of fats, which are still higher. (That's why we put such emphasis on avoiding fried foods, gravies, etc.)

There are no foods which use up calories. Circulating any such fairy stories is unkind to people who are trying to lose weight. There is no way they can eat as heavily as ever yet still get slim.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Cut a Pair of Clown Feet From Laundry Cardboard

BY CAPPY DICK

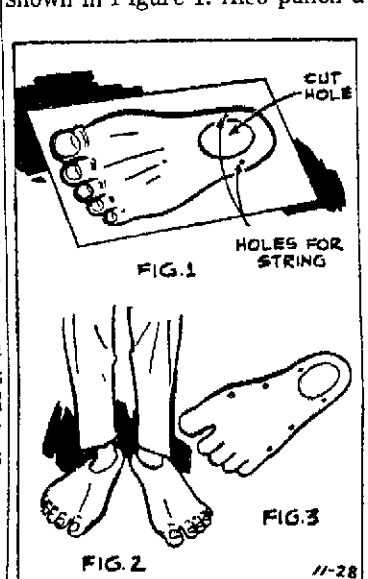

A pair of clown-size feet on your shoes. The cardboard (Figure 2) are fun to make and wear.

Outline the feet on two laundry cardboard inserts. Make them very large as in Figure 1.

Cut the feet out and also cut holes at the heel ends so you can put your own feet through them.

Color the feet with your pink crayons, make the toenails red.

Punch small holes at the edge of the feet near the heels as shown in Figure 1. Also punch a series of holes along each side of each foot as in Figure 3. These holes are for strings to be used in tying the cardboard feet over the tops of your shoes.

Remove your shoes and put your feet through the holes of the clown feet. Put your shoes on again.

'Dad, Poor Dad' at Milwaukee Repertory Through Sunday, Dec. 6

"Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hiding You in the Closet and I'm Feeling So Sad," the play with the longest title and some of the biggest laughs in modern theater, is the current stage play through Dec. 6 at the Milwaukee Repertory Theatre.

The theater is the former Fred Miller Theatre.

"Oh, Dad" was written by Arthur Kopple while he was still a student at Harvard University and was first produced by a student group at Harvard while the playwright was abroad on a traveling fellowship after graduation.

The hilarious fantasy opened in New York Feb. 26, 1962, for a planned run of eight weeks. The show stayed on Broadway for 13 months, after which it toured the country for another five months and then returned to New York for a limited engagement of 47 performances.

Eve Collier plays the role of the man-eating mamma in the Milwaukee production. The role of the son is being portrayed by Nicholas Martin.

Concern Shown For Endangered Animal Species

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department is concerned about the survival of 50 or more kinds of birds and mammals that may be facing extinction. It is asking conservation groups to help it prepare a list of the threatened species so special protective measures can be devised.

Some of the species listed Thursday by the department are the California condor, Atlantic salmon, Florida everglade kite, Attwater's prairie chicken, black-footed ferret, American ivory-billed woodpecker and whooping crane.

The department is considering legislation that would permit it to acquire land for special preserves for the threatened species.

The 102-hour period ends at midnight Sunday. The record death toll for the holiday is 543, set in 1963. ## Car Radios Abound

More than six of every 10 new cars sold in the United States during 1963 were equipped with car radios.

Even Though the Weatherman failed to cooperate — he provided rain instead of the snow customarily associated with the arrival of Santa Claus — jolly St. Nicholas made his arrival in the Twin Cities on schedule Friday night to herald the start of the Christmas shopping season. He was a mighty busy individual with appearances in three Twin City business areas. Above he stopped at the Ginger Bread House in downtown Menasha and was greeted by a throng of his small admirers. There was a crowd at Fox Point Shopping Center too as shown in the photo below. At the right Sherri Hanson climbed onto his lap in order to detail her list of Christmas gift wants. The visit was in the Santa Palace provided this year by Neenah Downtown merchants. Santa will be a regular visitor in all three areas from now until Christmas. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Children See Exhibition of Order's Work With Africans

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The man in flowing white robes showed the hippopotamus tooth and the carved African masks to the crowd of children. He explained the work of the White Fathers of Africa and the satisfactions of the religious life.

His booth, with a background of photographs and statistics boasting of six million Roman Catholic converts in Africa, was one of the most popular at a recent exhibition explaining the diverse vocations of Catholic religious orders.

Supervisors John Long, Menasha High School, is the test center director and supervisor of the grade 12 program at MHS. Miss Marymargaret Sauer and Gay Zarter are supervising the program at Butte dees Morts Junior High School (grade nine) and Zarter is the building coordinator. Raymond Feit is the building coordinator at Santa School and Mrs. Blanche Gutzke and Cliff

The show was sponsored by the local chapter of the Serra Club, an international group of Catholic laymen. The club sponsors similar displays in other cities, shows films and provides speakers.

The atmosphere at the Louisville show was that of a trade fair, and no one was doing any hard-sell recruiting. Some 54 orders from 12 states were represented. Each booth had pamphlets and leaflets to give out.

Religious Life The emphasis seemed to be on demonstrating that the religious life is far from all somber and serious. Color slides at many booths showed brothers and students playing sports or having informal get-togethers. A popular feature was a hootenanny staged by nuns, brothers and seminarians which included a hand-clapping, sing-along rendition of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The Our Lady of Grace Sisters staged a show with marionettes dressed as nuns. A majority of exhibits put emphasis on "the serving of God."

Most of the men and women operating the booths have been assigned full time by their orders as "vocations officers." One such official was the Rev. Richard Wise of the Society of the Precious Blood. He explained he corresponds with any young men who inquire about entering the order, sends them literature and if they express continuing interest, eventually pays them a visit.

Hoyt Says Red Rebels Aim Only at Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American who was rescued from the Congo rebels says their revolt is an internal movement aimed chiefly at winning power and material gain for the leaders.

Michael Hoyt, who was U.S. consul at Stanleyville until Belgian paratroopers saved him from almost certain execution this week, found little support for the rebels among the populace.

"But they had guns," he added at a news conference Friday. Hoyt, 35, of Chicago, and four other staff members of the U.S. Consulate spent 52 days in the hands of the rebels.

Investigation Of Fatal House Fire Continues

Coroner Rules Out Space Heater as Cause for Blaze

An investigation is continuing today into the cause of a fire at 237 E. Murray St., which early Friday morning claimed the life of John Cayo, 28.

Cayo, the lone occupant, was burned to death in the bedroom of the small frame house. The house was completely engulfed in flames by the time firemen arrived at the scene shortly after 2 a.m.

Calumet County Coroner Leroy Hughes said after viewing the scene Friday the space heater in the living room "has been ruled out" as the possible cause of the blaze. An inspector for the city's electrical department said it is impossible to determine if wiring was a factor in the fire. The fire destroyed most wire installations.

Had Late Snack

Appleton police said they had determined Cayo's whereabouts until about 11 p.m. Thursday, three hours before the fire was discovered. Cayo apparently had played pool at a tavern and had gone to a pizza restaurant for a late snack. He told workers at the restaurant he planned to go home to watch television.

Police said that Cayo had been drinking during the day, but that he definitely was not under the influence of alcohol at any time during the day.

Appleton fire department authorities revisited the scene of the fire today.

Appleton Catholic Parishes To Introduce English in Mass

Participation by Congregation Also to Increase Through Changes

Appleton Catholic churches will join those throughout the nation in introducing English in the mass Sunday.

English will replace Latin for about half the prayers of the mass, and with it will come more active participation by the congregation. Use of the vernacular was one of the liturgical reforms authorized by the Vatican Council in Rome last year.

English will be started at all low masses in most Appleton parishes Sunday. Because of the need for new music, English will not be started in the high masses (sung masses) at once.

Altar Missals

A delay in obtaining the new altar missals in English threatened postponement of introduction of the vernacular, but this was averted when the Green Bay Registrar, the diocesan newspaper, in cooperation with the Milwaukee Herald-Citizen, newspaper of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee, distributed specially printed copies of the mass for the first two Sundays of Advent to all parishes in the diocese.

The liturgical changes will not be as drastic in Appleton as in some parts of the country.

Rules of Fast Are Eased by Pope Paul VI

The Eucharistic fast regulations for Roman Catholics have been changed, with the time of fasting from solid foods before receiving communion reduced from three hours to one hour.

The change becomes effective immediately, according to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. M. Grill, pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, Appleton.

The change was made in a surprise move by Pope Paul VI and announced at the closing session of the Vatican Council by Archbishop Pricle Felici, secretary general of the council. He said the new regulation applies to priests as well as to lay people, and was made at the request of bishops of many countries.

The communion fast formerly extended from the preceding midnight. This was reduced several years ago to three hours. The time of fasting from liquids other than water is one hour. There is no required fast from water.

Shop Addition

OSHKOSH — Fox River Tool Co., Valley Road, Town of Menasha, received a permit for an $8,000 addition to its machine shop from Carl Mailahn, Winnebago County zoning officer, Friday. The addition will be 60 by 36 feet.

Eight-Day Festival

Jews in the Fox Cities and throughout the world again kindle the Chanukah lights Sunday evening, as they rededicate themselves to what is probably the oldest known religious observance in behalf of civil rights and personal liberty.

Chanukah, the eight-day Festival of Lights, has its origins in a historical event which can be traced back to the year 168 B.C. when a small band of Jewish zealots, led by the patriarch Matathias and his five sons, rebelled against the political and religious tyranny of Antiochus Epiphanes, Syrian ruler of the Greek empire in the Middle East.

As an additional candle is kindled in the Menorah (candelabrum) on the successive nights of the holiday, Jewish families gather around the small flames to recite the story of the defeat of the mighty Greek army by a small band of guerrilla fighters who for three years refused to capitulate to either military might or spiritual extinction.

Maccabean Victory

The Chanukah festival recalls this Maccabean victory, which was climaxed by their triumphant entry into Jerusalem and the rededication there of the Holy Temple. According to an ancient legend, as the Jews were cleansing the temple, seeking oil for the darkened ever-lasting light, a cruse was found with sufficient fuel for only one day.

Miraculously, the lamp burned for eight days until new oil could be made and consecrated for use. This legend has become the basis for the eight-day celebration of Chanukah.

Joyous Holiday

The Hebrew word "Chanukah" means rededication. The festival is a joyous holiday and observed in both the home and the synagogue. At home as the candles are lit, songs are sung, the historic Chanukah story is read and the children receive small gifts.

Appleton Jewish congregations observe the holiday primarily in the home. The children in the first four grades of the Moses Montefiore Synagogue's Sunday school will present a Chanukah program at 2:30 p.m. Dec. 6. The sermon theme at the Moses Montefiore service at 8:15 p.m. Friday will be on Chanukah.

Zion Temple Congregation observed the holiday during its regular services Friday. Members of Beth Israel Congregation will observe the festival in their homes.

Chanukah is one of the minor festivals of the Jewish people, which means it is a historical rather than a Biblical holiday.

English Introduced

English will be introduced at all low masses Sunday in St. Bernadette, Sacred Heart, St. Pius X, St. Joseph, St. Therese and St. Thomas More churches. St. Mary Catholic Church will use English at the 11 a.m. mass Sunday and at one additional mass each succeeding Sunday.

Weekday low masses in English will be started at St. Bernadette, Sacred Heart, St. Therese and St. Thomas More churches. St. Mary's will have the 7:45 a.m. mass on Wednesdays in English initially.

Some parishes have had special preparations for the liturgical changes, such as series of sermons at Sacred Heart and St. Therese churches.

FBI Springs Trap on Native of Appleton

Madison Cab Driver Aids Agents In Arrest of Raymond Wyngaard, One of 'Most Wanted' Criminals

A Madison taxi driver acting on instructions given him by Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) agents aided in the capture of Raymond L. Wyngaard, 26, formerly of Appleton, one of the nation's top wanted criminals.

Wyngaard surrendered without resistance to Madison area FBI agents who surrounded the taxi cab in which he and a woman companion were passengers. The capture was made on the city's east side. Wyngaard was taken to the Dane County jail where he will be arraigned later today on federal charges of flight to avoid prosecution.

Sources in Madison said Richard Green, a cab driver for two years, was "employed" by the FBI sometime Friday night to go to a railroad station where it was believed Wyngaard was to meet a Chicago woman arriving on a train.

Meets Woman

Green, followed by agents in another cab, went to the station and parked in a cab stand about 1 a.m. A blonde got off the train, and Wyngaard moved out of the shadows, took the woman by the hand and led her to Green's cab. Wyngaard told Green to take them to an east side restaurant. Green said he was nervous, but Wyngaard was polite and did not seem suspicious.

The agents followed as Green took the pair to the restaurant and parked. Agents surrounded the cab and took Wyngaard into custody.

Authorities in Madison said they have not learned the identity of the woman, but she is being held for questioning. It was not learned how long Wyngaard had been living in Madison. He had taken a room in Madison and had been there for "sometime," sources said.

Acted on Tip

Agents said they acted "on a tip" when they set up the trap with Green who volunteered his assistance.

Wyngaard started his career of crime as a juvenile in Appleton. He served terms in Waupun State Prison, all before he was 19.

In July, Wyngaard and a companion escaped from a Detroit courtroom where they were to be arraigned on robbery charges. In making their escape, the two held 10 persons hostage in a Detroit office building, robbed a supermarket and a gun shop and stole three cars.

Wyngaard was placed No. Eight on the FBI's most wanted list early in October. He left the Appleton area early in 1960 while on parole from Waupun State Prison and was given permission to live in Detroit with his mother.

Rain Causes Accidents in Car, on Foot

Perilous Conditions Will Continue With Zero Low Expected

Locally hazardous driving and walking conditions were brought on by 39 inches rain and temperatures hovering around the 30 mark Friday night and today.

A rash of minor accidents on roads and falls on the sidewalks have kept policemen and ambulances busy for the past two days.

While only scattered snow flurries are forecast, temperatures of zero to 10 degrees are expected tonight.

Seven Inches of Snow

A storm Friday brought up to seven inches of snow to northern Wisconsin while the rain was falling here and caused dense fog in many parts of the state, grounding all civilian flights to northern Wisconsin.

Wet weather covered broad areas of the nation today as well, with snow in northern and western areas and rain in central and southern sections.

Below zero temperatures were reported in North Dakota and parts of Wyoming and South Dakota.

Only the Atlantic coast has reported generally fair weather.
